Find Red Activity In DMZ 455 Times

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command said today that reconnaissance has disclosed 455 indications of North Vietnamese activity in the demilitarized zone since the bombing halt on Nov. 1 and in at least 122 of the incidents American planes, artillery or warships fired on the enemy forces.

Previously the U.S. Command had reported American firing into the DMZ on 30 occasions since the bombing halt, occasions which the command had called "significant" incidents of enemy activity. Today a U.S. spokesman disclosed that American forces had fired into the southern half of the zone 117 times and into the northern or North Vietnamese half five times.

"The reason we did not report the others is that the results were not significant," the spokesman said. "In some cases the target was obscured and we could not get an accurate assessment. In other cases, bad weather precluded an assessment. You might call some of it harassing and interdiction fire, like cutting a road where activity had been spotted."

While the majority of the 455 "indications of enemy activity or presence in the demilitarized zone" were labeled insignificant by U.S. Headquarters, the totals made clear that North Vietnamese activity in the zone continues to be brisk and that U.S. planes and ground forces are on the alert to retaliate.

The spokesman said the "indications" included such things as sighting vehicles, activity on trails, bunkers, sampans, lights, and small group of soldiers on the move.

The 30 "significant" incidents in the DMZ included two attacks by North Vietnamese machine guns Monday on an American reconnaissance plane. A communique said American bombers attacked the two gun positions, destroying one and damaging the other. None of the planes were hit, the communique added.

The South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry announced today that the North Vietnamese 138th Army Regiment had returned to the southern half of the DMZ on Nov. 21. The ministry said it had protested to the International Control Commission.

U.S. officials contend that North Vietnam, in accepting the bombing halt, tacitly acknowledged an understanding to keep the DMZ free of military activity and to refrain from indiscriminate attacks on major South Vietnamese cities.

North Vietnam claims the bombing halt was unconditional and that U.S. reconnaissance flights over the DMZ and North Vietnam are illegal.

The U.S. headquarters also announced that American forces will observe the 24-hour Christmas cease-fire proclaimed by South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu. But as in the past, American troops will take any defensive measures necessary to protect themselves. Last Christmas the U.S. Command accused the Viet Cong of violating the 24-hour truce 79 times.

Thieu's office announced there would be no cease-fire for New Year's or for the Tet festival of the lunar new year in February, presumably because the Viet Cong launched a major offensive shortly after the Tet cease-fire began last January.

A Viet Cong representative in Cambodia said last week that he understood the Viet Cong would order a cease-fire for Christmas, New Year's Day and Tet.

Move Underway To Acquire Armory For 'Y'

Negotiations are underway to acquire the National Guard Armory, E. Franklin St., as a recreation and office headquarters for the Pickaway County YMCA Branch.

Robert Johnson, president of the Y-Board, told directors at a noon luncheon meeting Monday that ONG officials were receptive to a plan for utilization of the building by the YMCA.

Johnson said the building could be leased for a two-year period at $200 a month. At the end of the two years, if the Y-Board decided not to buy the building, all rental fees would be refunded.

Following a lengthy discussion, the directors unanimously approved a motion to accept the ONG offer subject to approval of the Finance Committee headed by Mrs. E. R. Bennett.

HAROLD Hewitt, Y Director, said that an additional $5,400 would be needed during 1969 if the Y were to take over the armory. However, he and other board members felt increased memberships and an expanded program would offset the hike in budget needs. Hewitt's estimate included utilities and a custodian.

Johnson also reported that efforts to reach an agreement with directors of the Pickaway County Youth Canteen have proven futile. Plans are underway for the YMCA to absorb

Logan Elm To Study Building Needs

The Logan Elm board of education has passed a resolution to make a study of the feasibility of a building program in the district.

Because of the crowded conditions that now exist in the three elementary schools in the district, the board believes that a new junior high may be needed to provide adequate facilities for the students of the district.

The LE board is tentatively considering constructing a building for grades seven, eight and nine.

The present elementary buildings will be used for the lower grades and the high school building for grades 10, 11, and 12.

IN other action taken by the Logan Elm board Monday, a research project for the home economics department conducted in conjunction with Ohio State University and its student teacher program was approved.

The board also approved the use of the McBee Computer System for student scheduling next year.

The computer service is located in Chicago. It will cost the school $1.40 per student.

The board authorized John Hen, executive head of the district, to hire an additional teacher aid for the fifth grade at Pickaway.

The school district received $605 under the business education program. They approved the purchasing of 15 electric adding machines for the business education department.

The board was notified that the school district's allotment per student under title III of the National Defense Education Act is $40 for each of the 45 student units.

The board will consider its 1969 budget at a meeting Dec. 16.

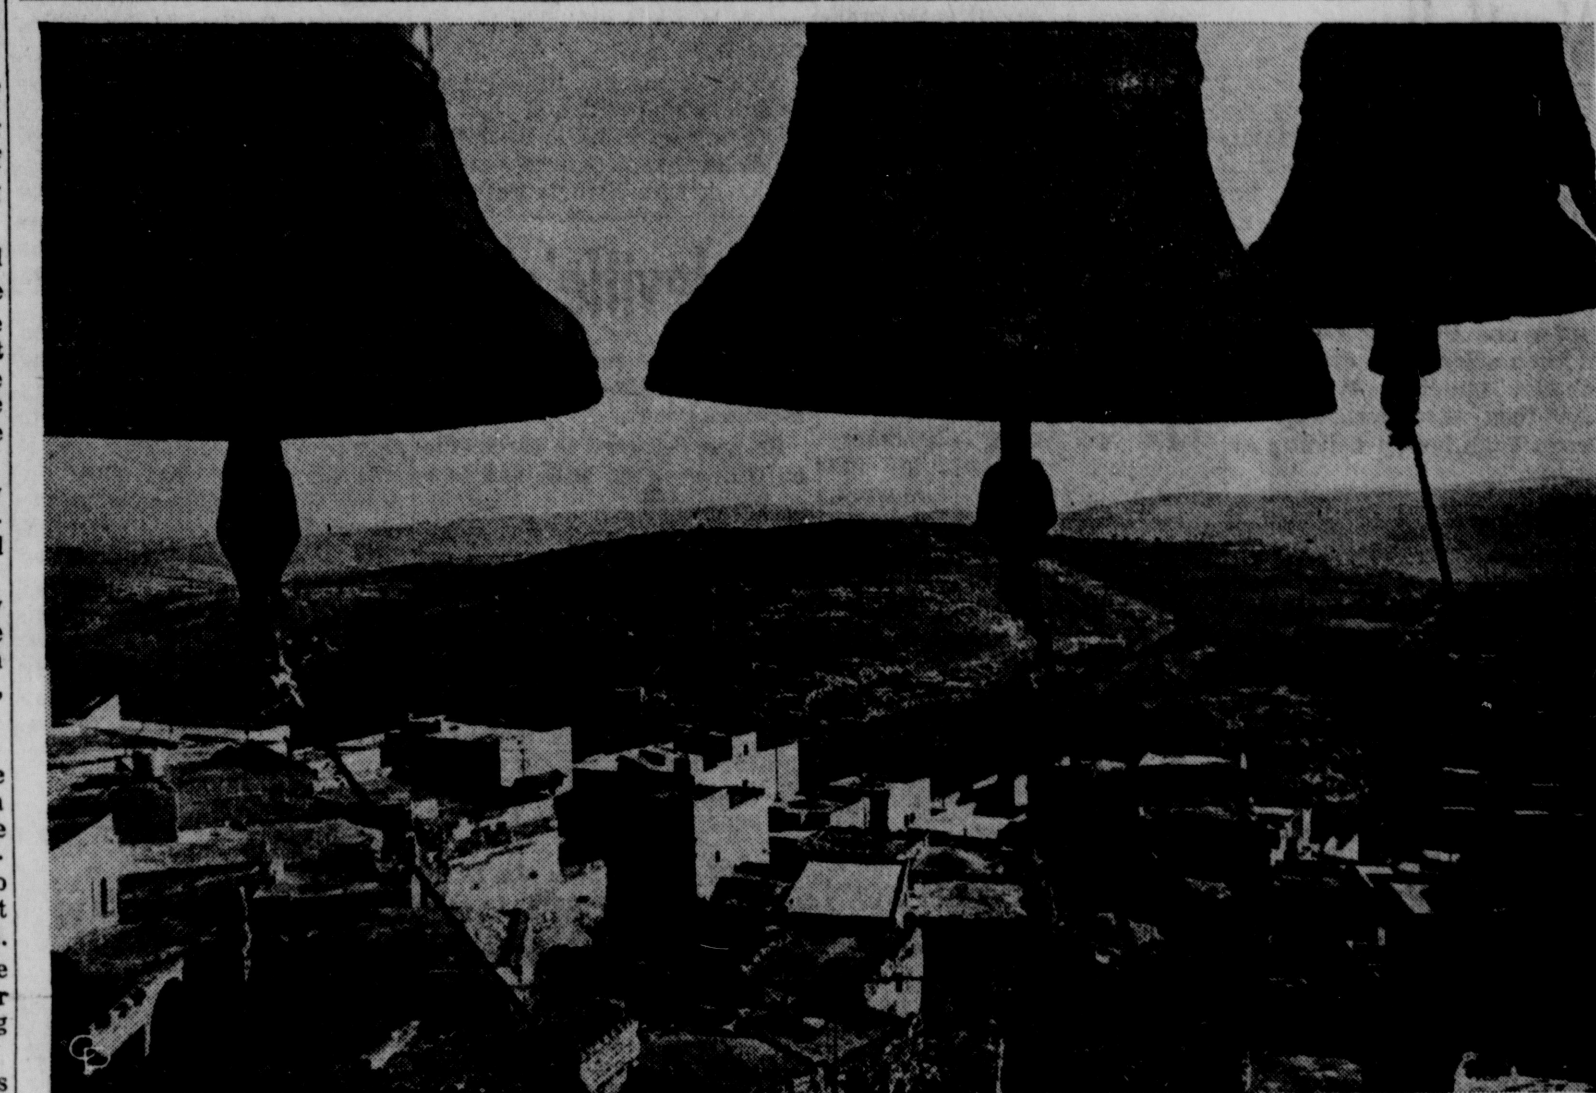

Hayden Claims HCUA Brainless

WASHINGTON (AP) — An organizer of demonstrations at the Democratic National Convention clashed today with House investigators, saying they ask insane questions and "maybe there is a brainlessness here."

Thomas E. Hayden, 28, Oakland, Calif., commented as he was questioned for the second day by a subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The committee says it is trying to learn whether there was subversive influence in the Chicago disorders.

"I've been here six or seven hours now," Hayden said, "and no witness in the history of your silly committee has given a fuller statement of his philosophy and views without taking offense."

Israeli Planes Hit Positions Inside Jordan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jordan charged today that Israeli planes and artillery killed at least 13 Jordanian civilians and wounded 17 in a heavy attack on Northern Jordan early Tuesday.

It was the second successive night of heavy fighting across the Israeli-Jordanian cease-fire line, and the Jordanian casualties were the largest reported on that front in some months.

Israel charged that Jordanian guns began firing first on agricultural settlements in the Bel-san Valley. The Israelis said eight settlements came under fire during an exchange that lasted nearly five hours. A spokesman said the Jordanian barrages caused some damage but no casualties.

Israel confirmed that its air force had gone into action again, as it did during a similar duel Sunday night across the cease-fire line.

Israeli spokesmen said the targets both nights included batteries of the Iraqi Army division which has been stationed in northern Jordan since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war. Israeli sources said the Iraqi batteries have been strengthened by big new Soviet 122mm guns.

A Jordanian spokesman said Israeli planes bombed the villages of Kafr Assad and Irbid. He said heavy artillery on the Golan Heights, which Israel seized from Syria during the 1967 war, fired on both villages and on the villages of Ghum and Summa.

The Jordanian spokesman said most of the victims were at Kafr Assad and that the bombing and shelling destroyed 10 houses at Irbid.

Teays Valley Interviews Architects

The Teays Valley Board of Education is in the process of interviewing architects to design a proposed "middle school" for the district.

Benis Lutz, executive head of the district, announced today that an architect will probably be named by the middle of December.

Lutz noted that all of the district's three elementary schools are packed beyond capacity with students.

To alleviate this overcrowded condition, the board of education is thinking along the lines of a building to house grades six, seven and eight.

The lower grades will continue to use the present buildings, none of which will be abandoned, Lutz said.

Young Woman Killed

CORNWALL, Ont. (AP) — Christine Morasse, 19, of Hamilton, Ohio, was killed Monday night in a one-car wreck near here. Her father, Laurent Morasse, and a sister, Manon, were injured.

Westfall Board Announces Plans For Building

The Westfall School District Board of Education Monday publicly announced plans to seek a tax levy for the purpose of constructing a new elementary school building.

The levy, which Westfall Superintendent Judson Lanman estimates will be in the amount of 4.5 mills or more, will be on the May primary ballot according to present plans of the board.

The proposed building will house grades one through six and will be built at the site of the present high school if the levy passes.

The seventh and eighth grade students will attend either Jackson or Monroe School.

TWO years ago Ohio University was employed to make a study of Westfall District and to make recommendations to the physical plants for the elementary students.

The students presently attend buildings at Williamsport, Derby, Jackson and Monroe. These buildings, especially the one at Williamsport, are antiquated, obsolete and not adaptable to present day education needs in many cases the board feels.

Students Protest School Closings

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A group of Youngstown public school children picketed Monday to protest the prolonged holiday they received when the school system ran out of money.

About 45 youngsters picketed on city streets carrying signs saying: "Open the school..."

The schools closed for some 23,000 pupils Nov. 27 and will remain closed at least until Jan. 2.

Reps. Ken Hechler of West Virginia and John Dent of Pennsylvania, both Democrats, introduced identical administration-backed bills this year that got lost in the rush to adjournment.

Spurred by the tragic deaths of 78 miners in an explosion near Mannington, W. Va., last month, Hechler said he is preparing an even stiffer bill.

The two congressmen are the latest to add their voices to the outcry over mine safety following the explosion at Mountaineer Coal Co.'s No. 9 mine, ordered sealed last week after days of rescue operations indicated the trapped miners could not have survived.

President Johnson, in a statement issued from the Texas White House over the weekend, also called for tightening of mine safety laws.

The No. 9 tragedy, however, is an indication of the difficulty in trying to control hazards facing men in the pits.

W. A. "Tony" Boyle, president of the United Mine Workers, describes the Mountaineer Coal Co. as "one of the best companies as far as cooperation and safety are concerned."

Boyle's comments, praise indeed from such a safety-conscious quarter, were made even though federal records show miners had been ordered out of No. 9 five times in 20 years because of unsafe conditions.

And eight violations of the Federal Coal Mine Safety Act were noted by federal inspectors in No. 9 this year. Each of the eight was later reported as having been corrected.

The deaths in No. 9 brought the toll in the nation's mines this year to 260, of which three-fifths—145—have been in West Virginia.

The coal mine safety law, enacted 16 years ago, "has so many loopholes you could put barns through it," says Charles Lanman, spokesman for the Bureau of Mines.

"It's weak and we don't like it," Lanman said in an interview. "But we enforce it."

Ninety-eight men have died since 1954 working No. 9. Sixteen were killed in a 1954 explosion and four in a 1965 blast besides those trapped two weeks ago.

After each explosion, federal inspectors issued a "withdrawal order," requiring all miners out because of the "imminent danger of disaster."

Similar orders have been issued at No. 9 on two other occasions in the last 20 years, according to Bureau of Mines records.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., a member of the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, charged last week that more than 25 serious violations had been listed by federal inspectors at No. 9 since December 1966. He said no penalties had been imposed for these violations.

"That's right," Lanman said. "If they're corrected by the operator, that's the end of it."

"The inspectors have got to make a decision," he added. "If

Circleville's 'Dentist' Confidence Man Caught

Lawrence Edward Brown, 31, Huntington, W. Va., who police say is the confidence man who wrote nearly $1,500 worth of bad checks here in late October was arrested in Jackson Monday.

Brown, through his attorney Steve Gussler of Ashville, waived a preliminary hearing and asked that his case be referred to the Pickaway County Grand Jury.

Brown is charged with eight counts of check forgery and two counts of larceny by trick. Judge Sterling Lamb set bonds totaling $50,000 today.

Brown was incarcerated in Pickaway County Jail in lieu of payment of the bonds.

POLICE say he is wanted by authorities in at least nine other communities on similar charges.

According to Circleville Police, Brown operated in Circleville under the pseudonym of Dr. Richard H. Harmon.

He appeared in Circleville the week following Pumpkin Show, and opened a $10 checking account at the Savings Bank.

He claimed he was a dentist, and asked for personalized checks. When he received the checks a few days later, he went on a writing spree and before he left town had left a trail of nearly $1,500 in bad checks.

He apparently moved to Jackson from here, Police believe. There he again opened an account for $10. In Jackson, he told bank officials he planned to open a store security service.

Authorities there had been alerted to his method of operation and notified local police of the deposit.

FOR two days, the Jackson bank was watched by city police and by persons from Circleville who could identify the pseudo-dentist. He did not show for the checks.

About two weeks ago, he called at the bank for the checks, but left before police could arrive. Apparently unaware that he was being sought by Jackson authorities he returned yesterday to pick up the checks.

Although the appeal for donations to the Stephen Knece Fund ended over a week ago, the largest single contribution was made today.

A check for $631 was received from the Chillicothe Eagles Lodge "and friends." Star Grange also contributed $5 and the fifth grade at Stoutsville Elementary School donated $6.13.

The fund total now stands at $8,425.50.

Meanwhile, Knece's condition at University Hospital continues to improve. Mrs. Helen Knece, his mother, reported today that her son's doctors have indicated he may get to spend Christmas at home.

TOKYO (AP) — The Japan Socialist party today denounced maneuvers being carried out by U.S. 7th Fleet warships including the 33,099-ton aircraft carrier Hancock off Korea.

Tomomi Narita, the party chairman, declared the maneuvers create the "danger of a flareup of another Korean conflict similar to the war in Vietnam."

Educational 'Solution' Is Explained

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes says his education proposals in his "Solutions for the Seventies" program will not be rigid ones.

"We're not saying the plan is perfect," the governor reported, indicating it will be open to changes and amendments.

He said there was no cause for alarm among educators that university names, responsibilities, or traditions would be affected under his plan.

Mine Disaster Puts Spotlight On Safety Regulations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two coal country congressmen say they'll introduce bills early next year to tighten up a federal mine safety law described as having "so many loopholes you could put barns through it."

Reps. Ken Hechler of West Virginia and John Dent of Pennsylvania, both Democrats, introduced identical administration-backed bills this year that got lost in the rush to adjournment.

Plane Crash In Alaska Fatal To 39

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — A twin-engine propeller airplane crashed into a frozen lake in barren southwest Alaska Monday, killing all 39 persons aboard.

Residents of an Eskimo village near the crash site reported by short wave radio they saw an explosion near the tail of the Wien Consolidated Airlines plane before it spiraled to earth.

Wind gusting to 55 miles per hour and 11 below zero temperature hampered efforts to recover the bodies and start an investigation into the crash. Teams of workers from the Air Force, FAA, National Transportation Safety Board and the FBI hoped to reach the scene by helicopter or small plane today.

George Fay of the Federal Aviation Administration in Anchorage confirmed that the reports indicated either an explosion or that the craft was trailing smoke before it hit the frozen ground and careened into the ice of Spotsy Lake.

The FAA said there was no indication of what caused the crash.

The plane was bound from Anchorage, 150 miles northeast, to several small towns on a regularly scheduled flight.

An Air Force helicopter reached the site Monday afternoon, but its commander, Maj. Norman B. Kamholtz of Forsyth, Mont., said fierce winds forced him to take off after 15 minutes on the ground. He said there were no survivors, and that Air Force medics checked the bodies they could find.

Dead were 36 passengers and the crew, Capt. David Stanley, Copilot Jerry Svengard and stewardess Sally Lamar, all of Anchorage. The plane was making a southwest Alaska swing to Iliamna, Big Mountain, King Salmon and Dillingham.

"The plane was just a hulk," Kamholtz said. "I couldn't tell which end was up, and I couldn't tell that it was an airplane."

Bodies were scattered over the area, he said. Eskimo villagers said they would stay with the wreckage to keep animals away.

Realizing the present elementary physical plants leave a great deal to be desired, the board decided to start planning for a new building.

The architectural firm of Kellam and Foley of Columbus has been selected to design the proposed building. It is the same firm that designed the present high school building at Pherson.

Bonding capacity of the school district will provide $1,400,000 for construction of the new building. Because this amount will not be enough to build a large facility to house all the Westfall students in grades one through eight, it was decided to start with the elementary building.

The present high school site is expected to be utilized, but more land may have to be purchased.

the canteen operation and offer an expanded and improved program. The canteen will cease to be funded by the Community Fund effective Jan. 1, according to Johnson.

He said that he had met with several officers of the canteen, but was confronted with opposition to the proposed merger. Johnson indicated that most canteen board members were in agreement with the merger and could see the advantages that would be made available through the YMCA affiliation.

Johnson noted that efforts would be made before the first of the year to reach an agreement with the canteen directors "if a meeting can be arranged."

In other business, reports were heard from Nelson Stevens on membership who noted that $6,670 had been pledged for various membership classifications; from David Munson on the Youth Program who reported six Y units were organized in six city schools and Washington Twp.; and from Dr. R. N. Phillips on the Informal Education Program. Dr. Phillips said that one course had to be cancelled due to an illness of the instructor and the winter session of the program would get underway Jan. 20.

Reds Scoff At South Viet Peace Plan

NLF Spokesman Again Attacks 'Saigon Puppets'

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks will take along a three-point plan, informed government sources said today.

"That's ridiculous, very ridiculous," said a spokesman in Paris for the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front when told the plan's third point called for the NLF and the Viet Cong to rally to the Saigon government.

The other points are:

1. A de-escalation of the fighting, particularly reduction of attacks on South Vietnam's cities and a halt to incidents in the demilitarized zone.
2. A "controlled and guaranteed" withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces, accompanied by a phased cutback in American strength.

"You know very well the position of our delegation," said the NLF spokesman in Paris. "The puppet administration of Saigon represents no one. It is the creation of the United States. The National Liberation Front is the legitimate representative of the South Vietnamese people who are rallying to us at this moment. I find these proposals scarcely realistic."

Meanwhile, an advance party for South Vietnamese President Nguyen Cao Ky began arriving in Paris as U.S. and North Vietnamese negotiators inched toward the opening of the expanded conference.

With the South Vietnamese delegation expected in full strength by the end of the week, U.S. and North Vietnamese negotiators held their first meeting Monday on procedures for opening the conference next week.

A U.S. official said afterward there was progress at the private session and more would be held. He said the diplomats also traded protests about military action in Vietnam and did not nail down any specific agreements.

Tarleton Woman, Child, 2, Hurt In 1-Car Mishap

A Tarleton area woman and her 2-year-old daughter were injured in a one-car accident near Adelphi Monday.

Referred to her physician by Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff was Jane Hubbell, 30, and her daughter, Shadra. Both were suffering lacerations of the face and hands.

Mrs. Hubbell stated that she was eastbound on the Kingston-Adelphi Road near the Adelphi corporation limits about 12:30 p.m. Monday when she lost control of the car while rounding a curve.

The car went diagonally across the road leaving the pavement on the left side, struck a guardrail, flipped over once and came to rest on its wheels.

No citations were issued by the sheriff's department.

Columbus Imposes Hotel-Motel Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—City Council voted 4-3 Monday night to impose a 3 per cent hotel-motel tax. The new tax becomes effective in 30 days.

The last legislature gave Ohio cities permission to impose the 3 per cent tax on lodgers' bills at hotels and motels.

Mills Now Says Tax Boost Not To Be Extent In Full

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., in an apparent change in his position of two weeks ago, said Monday it appeared to him there would be no effort made to extend in full the 10 per cent income tax surcharge into 1970.

Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, indicated the White House would not favor an extension in full, but it was not clear whether he referred to President Johnson or President-elect Richard M. Nixon or both. The surcharge expires June 30.

"If the 10 per cent surcharge is continued, as it appears to me it will not be in full because of what President-elect Nixon has said, possibly because of a decision that may be made by the Johnson administration not to recommend continuation of it in the budget — if all these things happen, the Congress wouldn't pass it," Mills said.

"It is utterly impossible for Congress to pass a tax increase or a continuation of a temporary increase without the full support, the very active support of the White House," Mills said. "And if the White House looks with disfavor on it, there will be no effort made probably to continue it."

Mills' remarks reflected a switch in his position of Nov. 10, when he said in Little Rock that he doubted that Congress would go along with Nixon's desire to drop or reduce the surcharge.

To do so, Mills said then, it would be necessary to place "additional, very stringent economies" into effect. He said at that time that the fiscal problems that had led to the adoption of the surcharge had not been cleared up in the year it had been in effect.

Mills said Monday, however, that the latest economic reports showed the impact of the surcharge was "beginning to be felt."

Nixon's campaign position was that the surtax should be ended as soon as the Vietnam war was over. Herb Klein, Nixon's communications aide, said Monday in New York that Nixon's position had not changed, but that some of the campaign positions were "under review."

He was returned to Circleville by Officers Jack Mills and Larry Pontious.

In addition to Circleville, warrants for his arrest have been issued in Lancaster, Newark, Chillicothe, Marion, Gallipolis, Pomeroy, Zanesville, and Cambridge.

Police say they have been told by BCI officials that the suspect has written checks totaling much more than the $50,000 bond set by Judge Lamb.

WHEN arrested in Jackson, he had $2.67 in cash in his possession.

The suspect has allegedly used different names and different occupations in every city in which he has been, but always uses the same basic method of operation.

Mayor Makes 3 Proposals On Income Tax

Mayor Richard L. Gerhardt today announced three recommendations which he will make to city council tonight.

The Mayor said he felt "these amendments are necessary to clarify and improve certain aspects of the proposed income tax ordinance."

The first recommendation concerns Section 14 by listing specific capital improvements, equipment and services to be earmarked for priority satisfaction from any new revenue secured from the income tax. Gerhardt said that "we must insure these items which are most needed to be the ones first to be taken care of."

The second recommendation concerns Section 18 by setting the duration of the income tax at one year. With respect to this provision, Gerhardt said it was his feeling that since the entire matter of reassessing the city's financial situation would have to be made in 1969 when the present operating levy expires, and that since an income tax such as this should probably not be permanently installed without giving the tax payers an opportunity to express their approval, a one year duration date was being recommended at this time.

He added, "The primary reason for this emergency ordinance now is to catch up."

The third recommendation adds a new provision to establish a tax study group which would review over the course of the coming year the entire tax structure and make recommendations to the city council.

The mayor stated that overall "tax reassessment and reform" are obviously necessary in the long run, and the establishment of such an independent study group will be a major step in that direction.

The study group proposed would be made up of private citizens, members of city council, the two city directors and the mayor.

Aquanauts 'Down Deep'

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Five aquanauts napped, joked and occasionally strummed a guitar as they simulated a 1,000-foot dive aimed at preparing man to unlock the secrets of the ocean's depths.

After running through preliminary breathing tests in the first hours after the dive began Monday afternoon, the divers settled down for several hours of relaxation inside a blue cylindrical chamber measuring 11 by 36 feet that will be their home for the next two weeks.

The divers are scheduled to remain at the 1,000-foot level for three days during which scientists will conduct tests to determine whether man can effectively work at that depth.

They will take 11 days to return to surface pressures, coming up slowly to avoid the danger of bends which strike divers who surface too rapidly.

It will be the first time men have remained for more than a few moments exposed to such pressures, more than 30 times normal.

Sweden and 50 other nations have introduced a resolution to call a world conference on pollution. Swedish Ambassador Sverker Astrom told a news conference Monday his government believes it is imperative for all U.N. members to take urgent steps to establish a more harmonious environment.

Astrom said his delegation supports the idea of a universal declaration on the protection and betterment of human environment.

"Man depends for his survival on a very complex system of relationships and balances between living organisms, all existing in or on the extremely thin crust of earth or just above it," Astrom said.

The ambassador said this system has a remarkable capacity of renewing itself, but he warned that even "nature's patience has a limit."

Astrom noted that man's environment does not stop at man-made frontiers and hence is a worldwide problem.

Sleeping Driver Badly Hurt In 1-Car Accident

A Mt. Sterling area man who fell asleep while driving was badly injured in an accident on Route 62 Tuesday morning.

Taken to Madison County Hospital, London, and then transferred to Mercy Hospital, Columbus, was 27-year-old Harold Tackett of Route 1, Mt. Sterling. Tackett received severe neck injuries in the accident, according to a report of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Tackett had been southbound on Route 62 at the intersection of Mt. Sterling-Commercial Point Road about 2:30 a.m. when the accident occurred.

He told Sheriff's Deputy F. G. McGinnis that he had left work in Columbus about 1:45 a.m. and was on his way home at the time of the accident.

Tackett stated that he remembers nothing of the accident and must have fallen asleep while driving.

The car went off the left side of Route 62 and went over an embankment where it came to rest. No citations were issued.

Armed Women Flee In Pink Sedan

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Two women, both armed and both about 35, held up a liquor store Monday, took $167 and fled in a pink sedan.

"This is the first time in 27 years as a policeman that I can remember an armed robbery in Memphis in which the robbers were women," said Inspector Ed Huddleston.

The 150-year-old landmark, the oldest business building in town, was the site of the formation of the fire company nearly 150 years ago. Fire Chief William A. Cross said an electrical short circuit started a fire that caused about $4,000 damage.

Plane Crash In Alaska Fatal To 39

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — A twin-engine propeller airplane crashed into a frozen lake in barren southwest Alaska Monday, killing all 39 persons aboard.

Residents of an Eskimo village near the crash site reported by short wave radio they saw an explosion near the tail of the Wien Consolidated Airlines plane before it spiraled to earth.

Wind gusting to 55 miles per hour and 11 below zero temperature hampered efforts to recover the bodies and start an investigation into the crash. Teams of workers from the Air Force, FAA, National Transportation Safety Board the FBI hoped to reach the scene by helicopter or small plane today.

George Fay of the Federal Aviation Administration in Anchorage confirmed that the reports indicated either an explosion or that the craft was trailing smoke before it hit the frozen ground and careened into the ice of Spots Lake.

The FAA said there was no indication of what caused the crash.

The plane was bound from Anchorage, 150 miles northeast, to several small towns on a regularly scheduled flight.

An Air Force helicopter reached the site Monday afternoon, but its commander, Maj. Norman B. Kamhoo of Forsyth, Mont., said fierce winds forced him to take off after 15 minutes on the ground. He said there were no survivors, and that Air Force medics checked the bodies they could find.

Dead were 36 passengers and the crew, Capt. David Stanley, Captain Jerry Svengard and stewardess Sally Lamar, all of Anchorage. The plane was making a southwestern Alaska swing to Ilamna, Mt. Mountain, King Salmon and Dillingham.

"The plane was just a hulk," Kamhoo said. "I couldn't tell which end was up, and I couldn't tell that it was an airplane."

Bodies were scattered over the area, he said. Eskimo villagers said they would stay with the wreckage to keep animals away.

Westfall . . .

Realizing the present elementary physical plants leave a great deal to be desired, the board decided to start planning for a new building.

The architectural firm of Kellam and Foley of Columbus has been selected to design the proposed building. It is the same firm that designed the present High School building at Pherson.

Bonding capacity of the school district will provide $1,400,000 for construction of the new building. Because this amount will not be enough to build a large facility to house all the Westfall students in grades one through eight, it was decided to start with the elementary building.

The present high school site is expected to be utilized, but more land may have to be purchased.

THE available money will permit the construction of about 35 classrooms. There will be two pods or buildings in the elementary facility.

The larger will contain 24 classrooms and the other 11. They will be connected. The plans may include two rooms for kindergarten students.

When money again becomes available to the district, the facility could be enlarged to include the seventh and eighth grades.

In addition to the 35 classrooms, the proposed facility would include a music room, an art room, a multi purpose room, a library, administrative office, a kitchen and building services area.

New Satellite To Probe Stars

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's astronomical observatory, most complex scientific spacecraft yet developed, rockets into orbit early Wednesday in the first of a double-header launching this week.

A European space research organization's first interplanetary satellite is to blast off from a nearby launch pad Thursday to paint the sky in a multicolored study of earth's magnetic field.

Perched atop a powerful Atlas-Centaur rocket, the U.S. craft will give astronomers their first look at thousands of stars not visible on the ground because of the distorting influence on earth's atmosphere.

Barry Lockie, Volpe's press secretary, said "We absolutely have no comment on the story whatsoever."

Reds Scoff At South Viet Peace Plan

NLF Spokesman
Again Attacks
'Saigon Puppets'

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's delegation to the Paris peace talks will take along a three-point plan, informed government sources said today.

"That's ridiculous, very ridiculous," said a spokesman in Paris for the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front when told the plan's third point called for the NLF and the Viet Cong to rally to the Saigon government.

The other points are:

1. A de-escalation of the fighting, particularly reduction of attacks on South Vietnam's cities and a halt to incidents in the demilitarized zone.

2. A "controlled and guaranteed" withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces, accompanied by a phased cutback in American strength.

"You know very well the position of our delegation," said the NLF spokesman in Paris. "The puppet administration of Saigon represents no one. It is the creation of the United States. The National Liberation Front is the legitimate representative of the South Vietnamese people who are rallying to us at this moment. I find these proposals scarcely realistic."

Meanwhile, an advance party for South Vietnamese President Nguyen Cao Ky began arriving in Paris as U.S. and North Vietnamese negotiators inched toward the opening of the expanded conference.

With the South Vietnamese delegation expected in full strength by the end of the week, U.S. and North Vietnamese negotiators held their first meeting Monday on procedures for opening the conference next week.

A U.S. official said afterward there was progress at the private session and more would be held. He said the diplomats also traded protests about military action in Vietnam and did not nail down any specific agreements.

Rhodes Eyes Mental Health

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes said today that he will send a proposal to the next legislature for a $165 million mental health program.

"We are going to provide comprehensive mental health and mental retardation services in every area in the state," Rhodes said in announcing the program that includes proposed establishment of 35 community mental health centers through 1975.

Rhodes said recent passage of State Issue No. 1, a capital improvements bond issue, makes an immediate start possible. The mental health programs is projected through 1975.

All details of the program, including financing, were not spelled out by the governor in his announcement.

EASTON, Conn. (AP) — The annual meeting of the Easton Volunteer Fire Department adjourned early Monday night when the 45 members rushed out to save the town's combination general store and post office.

The 150-year-old landmark, the oldest business building in town, was the site of the formation of the fire company nearly 150 years ago. Fire Chief William A. Cross said an electrical short circuit started a fire that caused about $4,000 damage.

High Costs May Curb Nixon Plans To Boost Defense

Editors: The following is the second in a six-part series on problems facing the incoming administration. It deals with defense.

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indications currently point to a slower-paced military buildup after Richard M. Nixon takes office than was suggested by campaign statements hammering at a "gravely serious security gap."

Nixon associates say the new president plans a deep and detailed study of defense commitments and the nation's strength before deciding how far and how fast to go in spending additional billions of dollars on weaponry.

"He wants to review all of our commitments and translate that into what new hardware is needed," one source said, implying there are some private U.S. commitments which must be taken into account.

The Nixon team is reasonably convinced already that time consuming research and development will require early stimulus.

Nixon charged in the campaign the Johnson administration had permitted a technological "research gap" between the United States and Russia.

"We must not run the risk that a technological breakthrough might overnight alter the balance of power which now maintains the peace," Nixon has said.

Research and development is a slow process, involving much experimentation and trial and error, before new weapons can take shape.

The Defense Department's fiscal 1969 budget carried $8 billion for all kinds of military research and development. The Pentagon claims to have spent some $47 billion on this since 1962.

Nixon aides contend there has been a "fair amount of waste" because of what they term "foot-dragging" in some important project areas.

"We think they should be moving faster," a Nixon staff member said but he declined to discuss specific projects.

The president-elect has avoided being nailed down in any specific commitment to buy certain types of weapons.

About the closest he has come in this regard has been to explore what he called a "freeze on nuclear submarines" and to

Ohio Team Wins 1st In Livestock Show

CHICAGO (AP) — An Ohio team won first place in team judging in the all-breed livestock competition at the 47th national 4-H Congress, it was announced Monday.

The Ohio team members were Tim Barnes, 17, Radnor; Lee Braum, 17, Botkins; Dan Eversole, 17, Baltimore, and Dale Ricker, 16, Fort Jennings. Coaches were R. O. Smith and H. M. Barnes, specialists in animal science at Ohio State University.

claim this has led to a "submarine gap" in relation to the Soviet Union.

While he has not hemmed himself in with numbers, Nixon has criticized the Defense Department's action limiting nuclear-powered attack submarines to 69 "despite the Navy request for 109."

He also has come out flatly in support of the controversial F111 fighter plane, or at least the Air Force version of it. The F111, once known as the TF, has been plagued by a series of crashes and mechanical flaws.

In a statement at Ft. Worth, Tex., where the F111 is manufactured, Nixon pledged that "the F111 will be in a Nixon administration made into one of the foundations of our national security."

Nixon has made a major point of urging a change from the draft to an all-volunteer armed force, but not until "our involvement in the Vietnam war is behind us."

He estimates the cost of higher pay and allowances to attract enough volunteers at $5 billion to $7 billion a year. Democratic officials challenged this during the campaign, mentioning a possible cost of more than $16 billion.

Many senior military men welcome the Nixon presidency because they expect to get more of their weapons requests approved. But they really don't know how much more they can expect.

While Nixon has talked about achieving "clear-cut military superiority," he has stressed he was speaking about "the over-all position of strength of the United States."

Nobody is quite sure what this means, though Nixon has mentioned a rejuvenated merchant marine—only indirectly a military program.

Although he has laid considerable emphasis on relative nuclear weapons power, he has refrained from committing himself to build advanced missile systems, or even to increase the present limit of 1,000 land-based Minutemen set by former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara four years ago.

Some Pentagon professionals think Nixon is inclined to give the Air Force its long sought go-ahead to build a completely new advanced manned bomber. But Nixon aides say he has made no such specific commitment.

By criticizing the McNamara approach to an antimissile defense, Nixon has implied that he might be willing to expand the "ent limited plan, aimed at protecting the United States from a relatively unsophisticated Red Chinese attack, to a bigger and more complex shield against a heavy Russian attack."

But here, too, there is nothing more than an implication.

At the end of the campaign, some Nixon associates said his defense plans contemplated raising the military budget to about $87 billion by 1973.

This would be some $15 billion more than Congress allotted this year.

The 1973 projection envisions spending some $10 billion to $15 billion on Southeast Asia, even though the Vietnam war hopefully will be over by then.

About $25 billion of this year's defense budget is earmarked for the Vietnam war.

The staggering cost of military hardware—and the prospect that inflation will send these costs upward—must be an inhibiting factor in Nixon administration thinking about any major new buildup.

Pentagon analysts have estimated that a new advanced land-based missile system would cost about $10 billion. Roughly the same figure is projected for an advanced bomber called the AMSA.

If the Nixon administration should decide to go for a Russian-oriented antimissile defense, Pentagon analysts have spoken of a price ranging up to $40 billion compared with the $5.5 billion for the Chinese-oriented system.

Atomic attack submarines cost about $78 million apiece, nuclear-powered naval escorts about $125 million each.

Alarming Water Report

A report on water resources in the United States sent to Congress by President Johnson is enough to cause persons of weak resolve to go off the water wagon. In its 472 pages, the report covers virtually every section of the U. S., and with few exceptions the verdict is that in 50 years inhabitants will be consuming more water than nature can provide unassisted.

Prepared by the Water Resources Council, headed by Interior Secretary Udall, the report mentioned two areas which already suffer from severe water problems: Arizona and the Rio Grande area of New Mexico and Texas. In Arizona, water supplies were described as already inadequate to meet needs.

In many parts of the country — the Great Lakes, for example — the problem is not one of water deficiency, but water pollution. Great sources of water already have been polluted almost to the point of worthlessness.

It makes sense to concentrate on cleaning up present water supplies rather than wait until it is necessary to try to create water where no usable supplies exist.

Good News Underplayed?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Morris Ernst, the New York lawyer and civil libertarian who has lived through a thousand crusades, has a fixed idea that the whole communications industry — the press, radio and TV included — is engaged in a tacit conspiracy to present only the bad news about life in America. He gives his talk on this subject both on and off the record, usually with differing supporting stories, which is a bit confusing. But I asked him if he wanted his gripe passed on to the public and to the editors and electronic media executives who serve the public. He said yes.

Well, how good is Mr. Ernst's information? Before passing a tentative judgment on his accuracy, we should let him have his say. One of his complaints is that the New York City dailies won't handle good news about people in the slums or about demonstrators at City Hall. He tells the story of fifteen discontented Chinese who had a protest to lodge with the New York City government. They made their pitch at the mayor's office. Then, unlike other demonstrators, they turned around and did a thorough job of cleaning up a mess in City Hall Park to which they had presumably contributed. Mr. Ernst said he looked in vain for even two lines in the press about this remarkable bit of behavior. If the Chinese had broken some windows instead of making City Hall Park a more sightly place they would, so Mr. Ernst implied, have made the front pages.

Then there was the story of the Negroes in Harlem who started a cooperative store without asking a cent from the federal government, or from a foundation, or even, as Mr. Ernst put it, from Bobby Kennedy (who was alive at the time). They raised the necessary capital by collecting it from the community in $5 amounts. Not a line about this, says Mr. Ernst, made the metropolitan press.

It would be true that the New York daily press, which is down to three newspapers, two of them of tabloid size, doesn't rush to handle this sort of story. But I happened to hear of the new Negro Harlem cooperative during a visit to Syracuse, and, coming back to New York, I looked into it and wrote a column about it. To the best of my knowledge, the column was carried by various newspapers throughout the country. It was also printed in the New York Daily Column, which tries to make up for New York City's journalistic impoverishment by printing most of the columnists who have been forced out of Manhattan by the disappearance of some fourteen dailies over the past four or five decades.

My feeling is that Morris Ernst suffers from the parochialism that is forced on New York City by the collapse of so many good newspapers. If I spent all of my time in New York City I might think Mr. Ernst's complaint represents a true bill. But I wonder how much he reads the out-of-town press? Or the new suburban newspapers? Or the burgeoning weeklies? It would be good to have a study made about the play of news throughout the whole country.

'The Sterile Cuckoo'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Alan J. Pakula, who majored in direction at Yale University 20 years ago, has finally gotten around to practicing what he studied.

Pakula is directing as well as producing "The Sterile Cuckoo" for Paramount with Liza Minnelli and a star-studded cast. It is a departure for Pakula, who is accustomed to producing films with the likes of Gregory Peck, Natalie Wood and Steve McQueen.

"Look—I just turned 40 this year," he said. "A man has only so much time to do what he wants with his life. I wanted to direct when I was 20. I would hate to let another 20 years go by and look back and say, 'Gee, I wish I had directed back there when I could have.'"

And so, despite a highly successful partnership with director Robert Mulligan, Pakula decided to take a chance and branch out on his own. He chose "The Sterile Cuckoo," he said, "because I related to the material." The novel by John Nichols concerned the romance of a student from an all-male Eastern university and a girl from a nearby girls' school. "Nichols actually wrote about Hamilton College, but the situation was very similar to what I had known at Yale," said Pakula.

Liza Minnelli was a natural choice for the girl—"She had read the book and had a strong feeling for it." For the boy Pakula chose Wendell Burton, a San Francisco State College student who had played only one previous professional role—the title character in the San Francisco company of "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown."

"Liza and Wendell and I rehearsed for four weeks before shooting," said Pakula, "and I've never heard of a picture rehearsing that long. But I felt it was necessary. Liza and Wendell had never met, and it was important for them to know each other. Eighty-five per cent of the story concerns the growth of their relationship."

The location scenes were filmed at Hamilton College, in Clinton, N.Y., and one party sequence was staged in a fraternity house. Pakula is concluding interior scenes at Paramount Studios.

FATTEST PRESIDENT by far that we've ever had in the U.S.A. was the good-natured William Howard Taft. Visiting friends one summer day in Long Branch, New Jersey, he was disporting himself languidly in the surf when his host's two young sons asked if they could have a swim before lunch. "You'll have to wait till later," their father told them gravely. "The President is using the ocean."

Alexander Woolcott once was shanghaied into attending a tryout of a new melodrama in a summer theatre. For the second act climax, one actor was supposed to kill another—but when the gun was "fired" there wasn't a sound. Again the desperate actor pointed his gun—and again silence reigned. When a third attempt fizzled, the desperate stage manager ordered the curtain to be lowered.

Woolcott and the rest of the audience were already on their way up the aisle when the gun finally went off backstage. Woolcott chuckled diabolically and commented, "Well, at least they got the author!"

The exploitation of the sick and the frightened is a special game played by many who know that an easy dollar can be extracted from their victims. In a recent survey of small fly-by-night "health magazines" there were fourteen different advertisements for methods of treating a hernia. All of them capitalized on the idea that a "newly developed scientific marvel makes surgery unnecessary."

It is astonishing how many of these "marvels" are discovered by "scientists" without training and without any knowledge of what a hernia is or how it should be treated. These modern wonders seem to be perfect for every conceivable hernia in a man or woman. There is one great classification for this hogwash and that is quackery.

There was a time when a hernia, especially in the groin, was classed as an unmentionable condition because there seemed to be some kind of shame attached to it. Mature adults have graduated from this attitude and now are bringing their problems directly to their physician.

Exactly what is a hernia? In general, it is some kind of defect in the protective muscle wall through which can protrude a loop of intestine, tissue or a part of an organ. Hernias can occur in many other parts of the body besides the groin. They happen in the esophagus, around the navel and following an operation (incisional hernia). The most common is probably the inguinal hernia that occurs in the groin.

The two major classifications of hernias are first, congenital ones found immediately at birth, and the acquired hernia found later in life. The congenital hernia is caused by some improper development while the baby is in the mother's womb. Acquired hernias are almost always caused by injury or excessive strain, in addition to some weakness of the muscle wall.

Small hernias may be present for many years without any symptoms or distress, but lifting a heavy weight may be sufficient to enlarge the opening and cause trouble. Some occupations lend themselves to the hazards of hernia.

Dear Editor:

In regards to Mrs. Zwicker's letter, we would like to inform her of the reason this all happened. It was because Mr. Evans was a deserter from the Army. In our opinion this is not defending or serving our Country, it's running from his duty as an American citizen. We know it is hard for young men to face Vietnam or Korea or any place overseas but a lot of men face it every day and don't give up because they know they are serving their country to the best of their ability.

We feel that Ptl. Sines and Pontious were also serving their country to the best of their ability when they were dispatched to apprehend Mr. Evans.

We agree that a man is innocent until proven guilty. When he stands trial and is found guilty, this is enough to satisfy us.

When a law officer comes so close to losing his life, do you seriously believe that the sentence was still enough?

When Mr. Evans was brought to trial for resisting arrest he was informed that as soon as Ptl. Sines was well enough, he would then have to appear in court. This gave his wife ample time to retain legal counsel.

If Mrs. Zwicker or anyone else is in doubt as to the extent of Ptl. Sines' injuries, they may contact any of the doctors who treated him.

The policeman's job is one that brings him in daily contact with the public. Most of these occur under sensitive circumstances and sometimes the officer is forced to defend himself.

A police department's success depends on the abilities of the individual officer. However, it is not always easy to recruit men who have the ability to meet the demands made on today's police officer.

Many factors contribute to the lack of applicants for a law enforcement career. In past years considerable public attention has been given to indiscriminate and unreasonable charges of "police brutality". A generally poor police image has been given and outright disrespect shown for officers and the laws by which we are governed. This discourages applicants for police departments. Also contributing are the increasing physical assaults on officers, low salaries and no fringe benefits as compared to local industries and the long hours required in most departments.

If the city income tax is the only way Circleville can increase the wages of the police department, then we feel it should be adopted.

There has to be a pay increase to attract dedicated men to fill the vacancies now open.

If anyone has any ideas on how to achieve a pay increase other than the city income tax, we urge you to contact your councilman.

Alarming Water Report

A report on water resources in the United States sent to Congress by President Johnson is enough to cause persons of weak resolve to go off the water wagon. In its 472 pages, the report covers virtually every section of the U. S., and with few exceptions the verdict is that in 50 years inhabitants will be consuming more water than nature can provide unassisted.

Prepared by the Water Resources Council, headed by Interior Secretary Udall, the report mentioned two areas which already suffer from severe water problems: Arizona and the Rio Grande area of New Mexico and Texas. In Arizona, water supplies were described as already inadequate to meet needs.

In many parts of the country — the Great Lakes, for example — the problem is not one of water deficiency, but water pollution. Great sources of water already have been polluted almost to the point of worthlessness.

It makes sense to concentrate on cleaning up present water supplies rather than wait until it is necessary to try to create water where no usable supplies exist.

Good News Underplayed?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Morris Ernst, the New York lawyer and civil libertarian who has lived through a thousand crusades, has a fixed idea that the whole communications industry — the press, radio and TV included — is engaged in a tacit conspiracy to present only the bad news about life in America. He gives his talk on this subject both on and off the record, usually with differing supporting stories, which is a bit confusing. But I asked him if he wanted his gripe passed on to the public and to the editors and electronic media executives who serve the public. He said yes.

Well, how good is Mr. Ernst's information? Before passing a tentative judgment on his accuracy, we should let him have his say. One of his complaints is that the New York City dailies won't handle good news about people in the slums or about demonstrators at City Hall. He tells the story of fifteen discontented Chinese who had a protest to lodge with the New York City government. They made their pitch at the mayor's office. Then, unlike other demonstrators, they turned around and did a thorough job of cleaning up a mess in City Hall Park to which they had presumably contributed. Mr. Ernst said he looked in vain for even two lines in the press about this remarkable bit of behavior. If the Chinese had broken some windows instead of making City Hall Park a more sightly place they would, so Mr. Ernst implied, have made the front pages.

Then there was the story of the Negroes in Harlem who started a cooperative store without asking a cent from the federal government, or from a foundation, or even, as Mr. Ernst put it, from Bobby Kennedy (who was alive at the time). They raised the necessary capital by collecting it from the community in $5 amounts. Not a line about this, says Mr. Ernst, made the metropolitan press.

It would be true that the New York daily press, which is down

Try and Stop Me

FATTEST PRESIDENT by far that we've ever had in the U.S.A. was the good-natured William Howard Taft. Visiting friends one summer day in Long Branch, New Jersey, he was disporting himself languidly in the surf when his host's two young sons asked if they could have a swim before lunch. "You'll have to wait till later," their father told them gravely. "The President is using the ocean."

Alexander Woolcott once was shanghaied into attending a tryout of a new melodrama in a summer theatre. For the second act climax, one actor was supposed to kill another—but when the gun was "fired," there wasn't a sound. Again the desperate actor pointed his gun—and again silence reigned. When a third attempt fizzled, the desperate stage manager ordered the curtain to be lowered. Woolcott and the rest of the audience were already on their way up the aisle when the gun finally went off backstage. Woolcott chuckled diabolically and commented, "Well, at least they got the author!"

NEW YORK (AP) — It is becoming easy to spot programs in such poor health that they probably will not survive.

Poor health in television terms is any network program that routinely fails to attract at least one-third of the TV audience.

A scanning of the Nielsen rating reports indicates that it will take a miracle cure to boost such shows as "The Guns of Will Sonnett," "The New Adventures of Huck Finn" and "The Avengers."

Other programs that are not in good shape now include "The Outcasts," "The Jerry Lewis Show," "Star Trek," "N.Y.P.D." and "The Big Valley." "Hawai Five-O," "Blondie," "Judd for the Defense," "That's Life" and "The Jonathan Winters Show" and "Hollywood Palace" also look frail.

While NBC and CBS see-saw back and forth weekly in topping the list for the network with the highest average rating, ABC trails by several points weekly in terms of audiences for its product.

Death in the springtime usually comes to those series which come in third in their time periods in the three-network battle for audience attention. Sometimes, however, a show that was weak one-season manages to get stronger if moved to a different time.

This season, for instance, "High Chaparral" appears to be doing nicely in an early Friday night position while last season it was dying in a late Sunday spot.

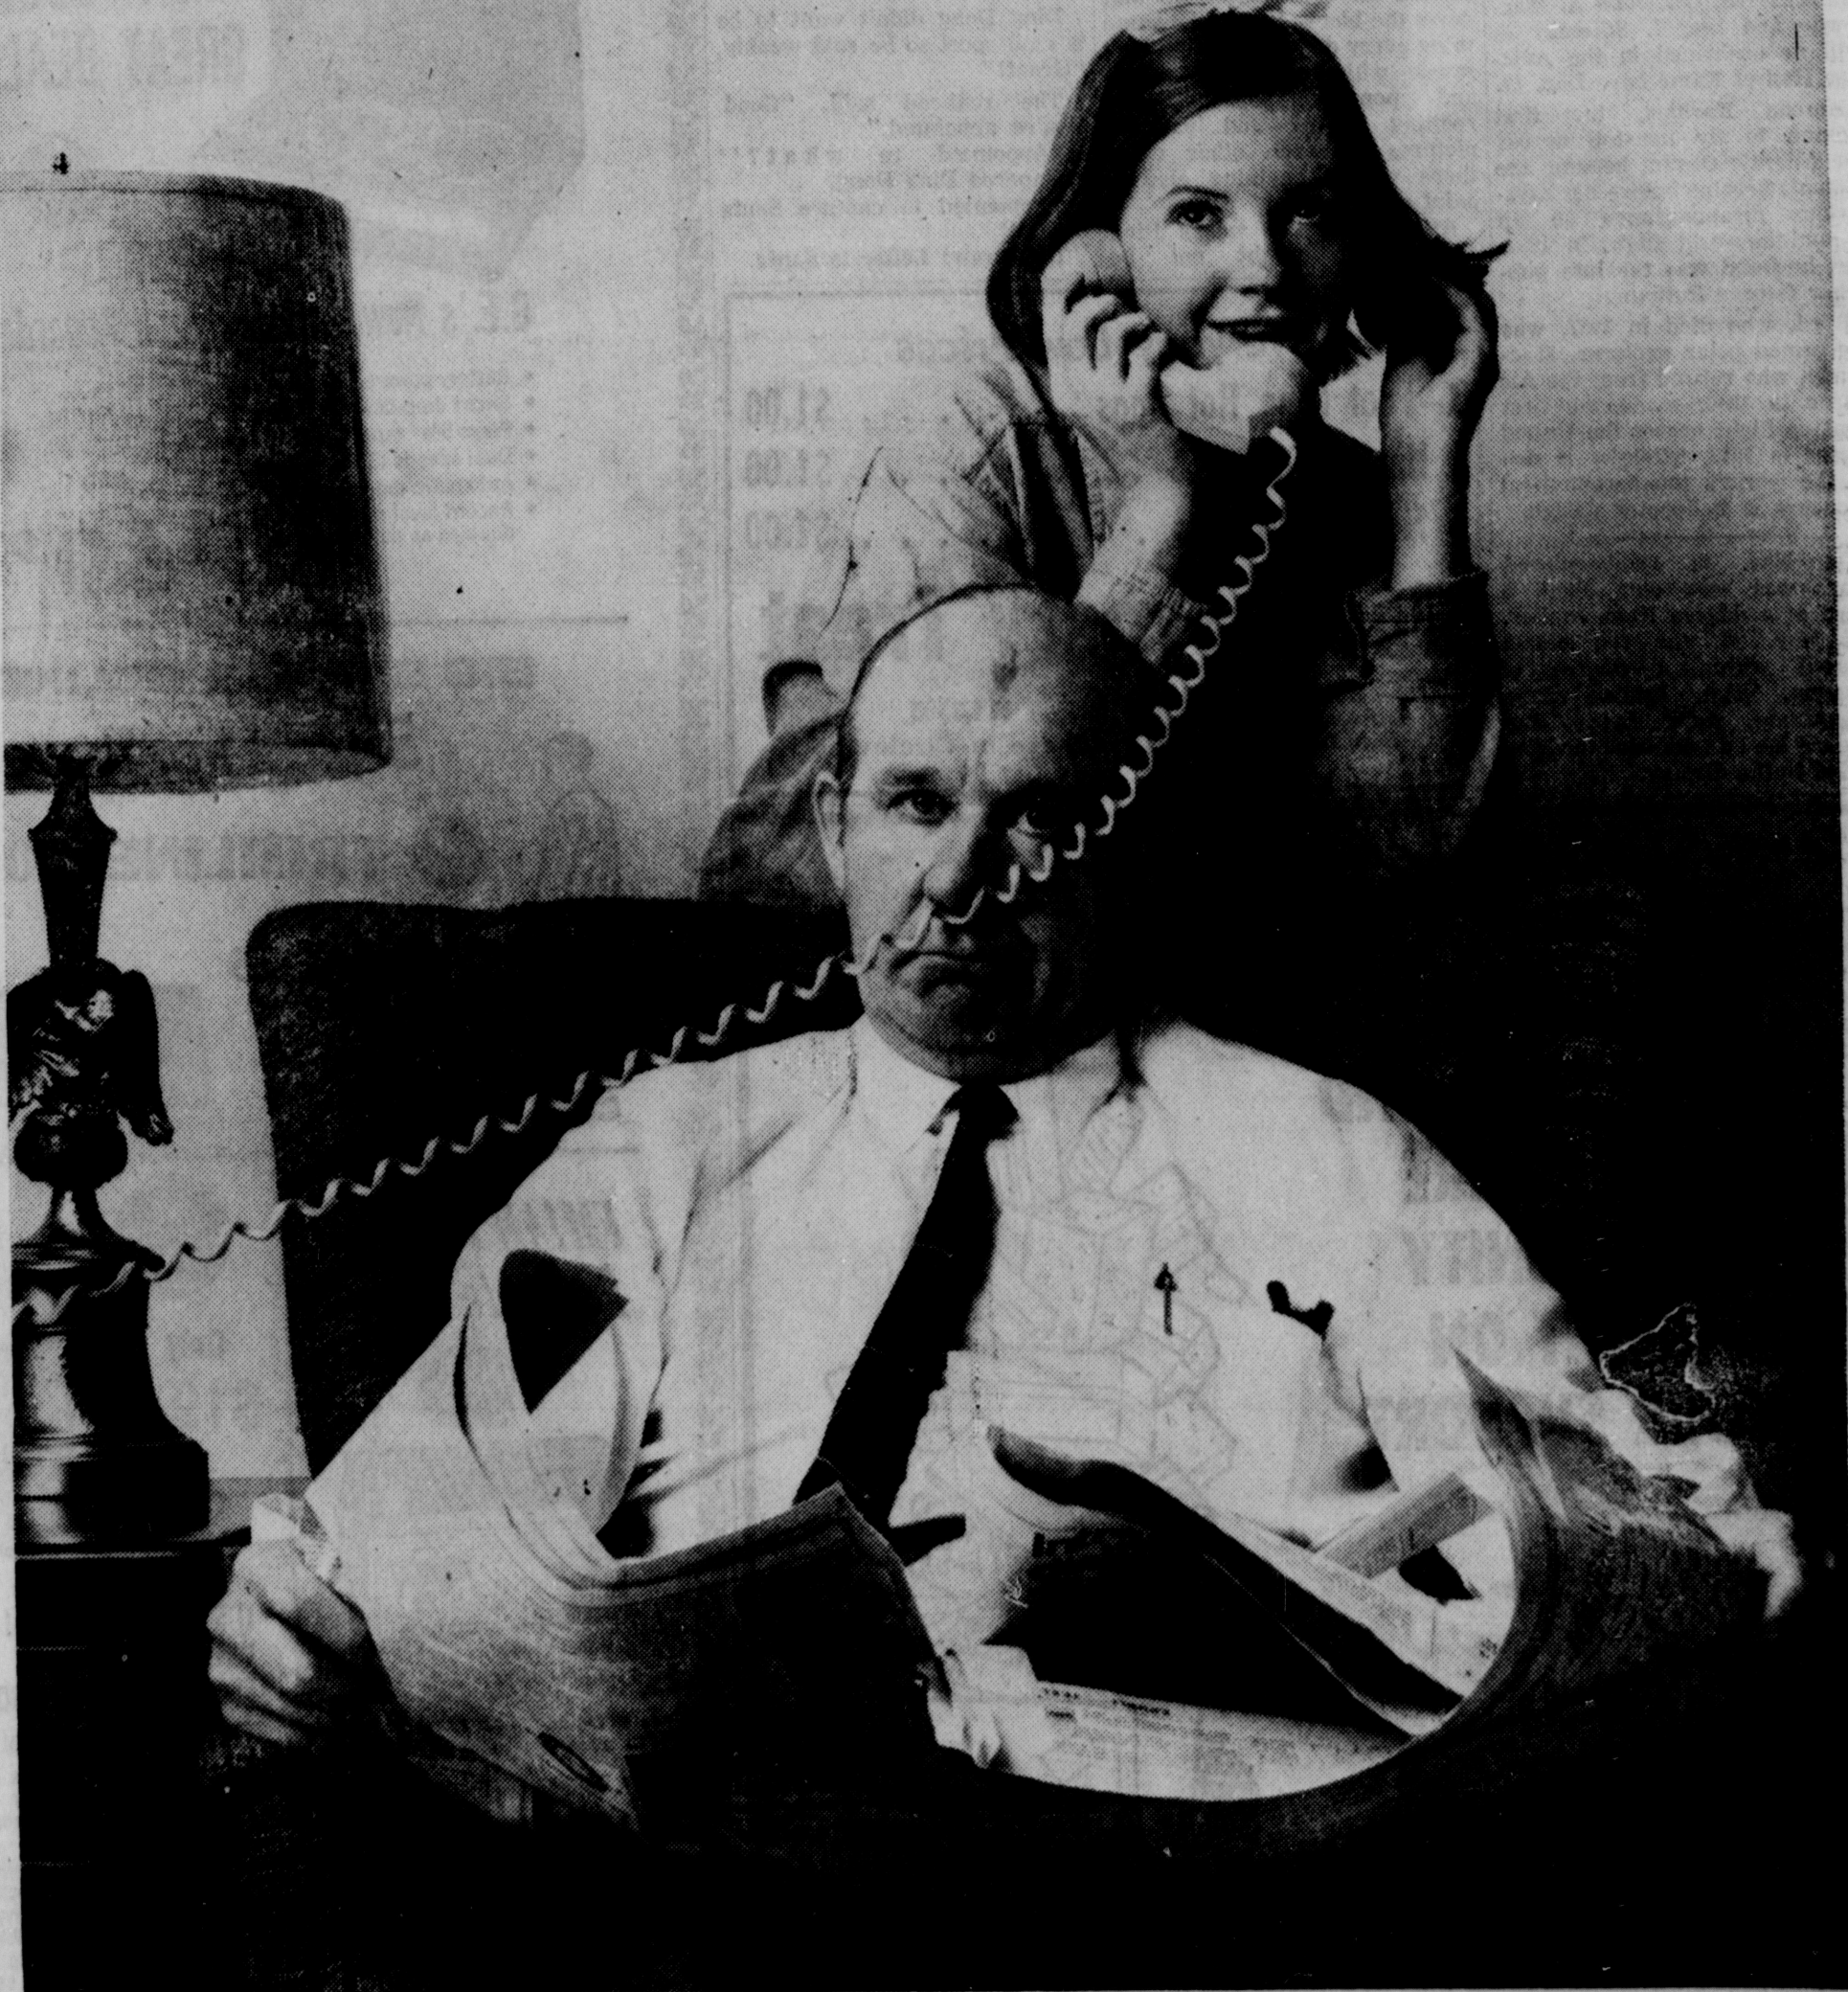

"The Good Guys," the new Bob Denver situation comedy, started out dismally but now seems to have picked up steam. In the last Nielsen, it climbed into the top third. "The Doris Day Show," which bobbed around alarmingly early in the season, now seems to have established its niche—25th in a list of 86 shows in the last report—and so is assured of a safe return.

With increasing production costs—half hour shows now cost between $75,000 and $90,000 per program, and hour shows twice that—it is necessary for the average series to have three seasons of network exposure before its producers can be assured of much profit.

ABC has not made the formal announcement but "The Dick Cavett Show" will wind up its brave, short-lived morning run at the end of January. It is a victim of small audiences and, as a result, little sponsor support and the network has been losing money with the show.

NBC has signed Andy Williams to a contract, and he will return next season in a weekly variety hour.

Santa and the Hippies

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Santa sends Ding Dong to Hippierville because he behaves so badly at home.

CHAPTER 3 FUN WITH THE HIPPIES

DING DONG stood there looking at the hippies. They hadn't had a bath or changed their clothes in goodness knows how long. But they looked good to Ding Dong because they were having fun.

A red-headed boy with his mouth full of peppermint candy grabbed Ding Dong and shouted, "You're new aren't you? Well, you're in luck. The action is just starting in the next room!"

He led Ding Dong into a back room where kids were sitting on the floor around a big electric pot. Suddenly the pot began jumping up and down and Ding Dong saw it was a popcorn popper.

Giant puffs of corn exploded over the children who scrambled on the floor and gobbled them up. What they didn't eat they stuffed into Ding Dong who was standing with his mouth hanging open in astonishment.

Someone handed him a pneumatic drill and told him to make some music. He picked up the drill and started busting up the fireplace. The hippies said it was groovy music. But it hurt Ding Dong's ears. He was glad when they took the drill away and gave him a triple pizza to eat instead.

They gave Ding Dong finger paints and told him to paint

"Let's make Santa our prisoner," shouted the hippies.

Dong decided it might not be a picture. He climbed on the chandelier and smeared paint on the ceiling with his hands. The hippies said it was beautiful, they really did dig the scene.

The paint dripped on Ding Dong's hair and clothes. When someone gave him a quart of ice cream it dripped with paint, too.

But, after all, this was really living, so when someone said, "Make up a poem!" he stood up and said:

"I'm a top
"I rockety-rock."

After that he was very sick from all the stuff he had eaten, paint and all. He went to sleep on the kitchen floor. There didn't seem to be any other place to sleep.

The next day the parties started all over again—up and down the block. It was the same thing every day—hippies making music with crazy instruments and popping popcorn and reciting poems and painting pictures on each other when there wasn't anything else to paint on.

After about two weeks Ding decided it might not be such a bad idea to be home again. When he told the hippies this, they said, "Man! You want to go home and take baths and go to bed on time and speak polite and all like that?"

Ding Dong said he certainly didn't want to do that but maybe things at home would be different now.

"They'll never be different," said the red-headed boy. "It's all because of this square Santa Claus who wants everybody to be so good. What we ought to do is get rid of him."

"Yeah!" shouted the hippies.

"We'll make him a prisoner," said the redhead. "Then all the kids in the world can do as they please!"

"Groovy!" screamed the hippies.

The redhead said to Ding Dong, "What do you think?" Ding Dong didn't want to be a spoil sport so he said weakly, "Great!"

The redhead said, "Good. You're appointed."

"Appointed to what?" stammered Ding Dong.

"Appointed to capture Santa Claus!"

4 Are Named To Aviation Hall

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The names of four immortals in the world of flying — Amelia Earhart Putnam, Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, Col. John A. Macready and Igor I. Sikorsky — will be enshrined in the Aviation Hall of Fame here Dec. 17.

Amelia Earhart, the first woman to fly nonstop across the Atlantic Ocean, became the nation's heroine before her mysterious disappearance on an around-the-world flight in 1937. Her husband was the late publisher George Putnam.

Byrd, who died in 1957, was the famed polar explorer. Macready, who retired from the Air Force in 1946, made the first nonstop flight across the United States in 1923. Sikorsky is one of the world's top aeronautical pioneers in helicopter design.

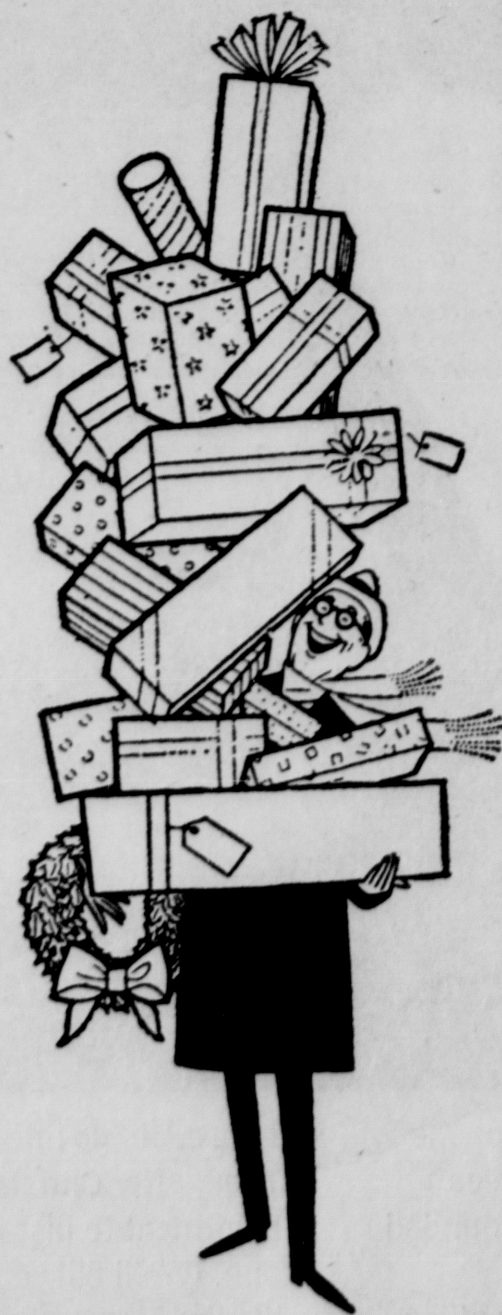

On Nov. 6, ruddy-colored Mars was seen only about a third of a degree from Jupiter. On Nov. 12, the red planet passed within a degree of Uranus. The bright, first-magnitude stars Spica and Deneboid, glowing nearby, added to the display.

Widow Dies; Estate Set At $1 Million

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Mary MacMahon had neither television nor air conditioner, but she has an estate worth more than a million dollars and police are still counting her money, jewels, stocks and bonds.

"It has got to be worth more than a million dollars, easy," said Sgt. Charles Fulton, "maybe a million and a half."

Mrs. MacMahon, 67-year-old widow of Thomas F. MacMahon, a New York attorney and investor, died sometime last weekend. The body was discovered Saturday when a maid came to clean Mrs. MacMahon's modest bungalow on Harrison Street.

Inside the bungalow, police found $242,283.87 in cash and stock certificates and dividend checks from numerous corporations including U.S. Steel, Woolworth, Chrysler, United Aircraft, Texaco and RCA.

Police received hundreds of calls from all over the country Sunday from persons claiming to be relatives of Mrs. MacMahon. The calls were referred to her attorney, Linwood Cabot.

Mrs. Melvin G. Faris, of suburban Miami, Mrs. MacMahon's niece, said the news that her aunt kept that much money on hand was a shock.

How the money will be divided among the potential heirs, including Mrs. Faris and Mrs. MacMahon's two sisters, remains to be determined. No will has been found.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

This Triangle Is A Family Affair

DEAR ABBY: I am 30 and my wife is 23, and her mother is 39. My mother-in-law is a divorcee and lives with us. My wife works days and I work nights, and my mother-in-law stays home and looks after our two small children. Well, my wife is P.G. again, and so is her mother. I am responsible for both, but my wife doesn't know about her mother's condition. My mother-in-law plans to leave town pretty soon and keep this whole situation quiet. She has a sister she can live with in west Texas.

Do you know where I can get a nice, respectable middle-aged woman who will live in and take care of our children?

GOLDEN VALLEY
DEAR GOLDEN: Try the want ads of this newspaper. Also the employment agencies. As a matter of policy I rarely offer advice beyond what is asked for, but boy, do I have some advice for you!

DEAR ABBY: My husband's family always come by for Thanksgiving dinner because I have the biggest house. I don't need any donations, but everybody brings something toward the meal.

Well, turkey and dressing have always been my specialty, but this year my sister-in-law begged me to let her bring the turkey, so like a fool I let her. She is a big show off and just wanted the relatives to know that SHE could make good turkey and dressing, too. Well, hers wasn't as good as mine, but here is my complaint. When she went home, she took every scrap of left-over turkey and dressing with her! The next day, my family gave me a hard time because we didn't have any left-overs. My question: Just because she brought the bird, do you think she was within her rights to take what was left over home with her?

MAD
DEAR MAD: No. She should have left another kind of bone for your family to pick with you. Next time, fix your own bird, or be prepared to cook your own goose.

DEAR ABBY: You are usually very fair to service men, so I hope you'll print this.

Some girl wrote in saying her brother, who was in the service in Viet Nam, hardly ever wrote home, and their mother went around worried to death all the time.

Well, I'm also a service man away from home, but I write home often altho I sure have to think hard to write a decent letter.

The letters I get from my mother go like this:

"So and so is very sick and isn't expected to live thru the week. So and so died from cancer last Friday. She suffered something awful. She went from 140 to 88 pounds. Grandpa isn't feeling good at all, and he looks bad, and I don't like the way your father looks either. This country is in a mess and it looks like things are going to get worse. Sometimes I wish I could just close my eyes and never wake up. Well, George, write when you get a chance. Love, Mother."

Don't use my name, Abby, but maybe if mothers realized that if they wrote more cheerful letters to their sons in the service, they might hear from them more often. Sincerely,

G.I. GEORGE

Something To Think About . . . A Friend

By JEAN CRIST

Why friends? Who needs them? We all do. Each of us, in order to become the whole person we were meant to be, must have at least one other person in whom we can place our trust. A trust so strong that it enables us to give some of ourselves to another without fear.

It is not easy to take a portion of oneself, which is to us our most precious possession, and hand it to another. It takes a measure of faith in the person who receives it. When these elements of trust and faith exist between two persons it is known as friendship.

Now that we have decided we need friends, how do we obtain them? The procedure is age-old and has been stated in many different ways, but it is essentially that the way to have a friend is to be one. You must act toward another person in the same manner in which you would like for him to act toward you. At this point, the word act deserves emphasis. All the pleasant thoughts and good intentions in the world will not bring you one friend, it is only when these are put into concrete form do they bring the desired results. Thinking about sending a card to a person who is ill does nothing for that person, sending the card does everything. Thinking to yourself that you respect this person and value his friendship is meaningless unless you tell him so.

After a friendly relationship has been established, it requires nurturing in order to survive and prosper. It is easy in the press of modern civilization to neglect our friends. Friendship is like a lovely plant that is watered and given sunlight. It flourishes, producing beautiful blossoms and foliage. But when the plant is not given proper attention it will shrivel and die. Thus it is so with friends, given the proper attention they become dearer and a more important part of one's life. Neglected, the friendship will die and you will find a small part of yourself has wasted away. Maintaining friendships means a constant effort on the part of both persons to preserve the relationship and help it to grow with time into a thing of value and worth. If you do not have the desire or interest to really work at being a friend, forget it, because you can never succeed in this venture without the willingness to invest much time and effort. To some the cost is too great, to others the rewards surpass the cost many times.

But how do you tell if a person is really a friend? Is it a sign of friendship when people come to help in time of trouble? Yes, it is, but many come forward to help at such times who are merely acquaintances. The ones who come to congratulate you and share your joy when you have paid off the mortgage on the house, received an important promotion or when your son has achieved prominence in his field, these are your friends. Yes, those who share the pain of your trouble, the joy of your success and stand with us as we fight the lonely battles that each of us must face, these are our friends.

Friendship is all the more beautiful because it is a relationship of choice. We freely choose to find and keep our friends and this fact tends to strengthen the relationship because we realize how much we are loved and respected by another that they should choose us. Cherish your friends and their friendship and you will find your life is richer by far because it exists.

Cloud Slates Hard Look At Welfare

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Roger Cloud has decided to take a hard look at Ohio's welfare system, one of the state's costliest programs.

Cloud announced Monday creation of a Public Welfare and State Institutions' Division to investigate administration of public welfare.

He said the new division, headed by A. J. Walker, senior state examiner, will:

—Review administrative compliance with federal and state requirements or welfare eligibility.

—Investigate payments to insure that proper services are being provided welfare recipients.

—Review technical procedures now in operation within welfare systems.

Cloud said the investigation is not aimed at recipients of welfare but at administration of the program to determine if changes in procedures or laws are needed.

If changes in the welfare system are needed, he said, new legislation may be presented to the 108th General Assembly next year.

Cloud said the investigation will begin in selected urban counties and a review of all 88 counties is not contemplated at the present time.

Dad Of Pueblo Crewman Seeks Help In Russia

NEW YORK (AP) — The father of a crewman on the intelligence ship USS Pueblo captured by North Korea is en route to Moscow to seek Soviet aid in gaining his son's release.

Robert Ayling and three fellow Virginians left by plane Monday night for the Russian capital.

Meanwhile, a move to petition congressmen and obtain the freedom of all 82 men aboard the vessel is being sponsored by the National Committee for Responsible Patriotism.

Ayling's son, Charles, 22, was a communications technician on the Pueblo when it was seized last Jan. 23.

Hugh Cline, a law partner of Ayling, told newsmen at Kennedy Airport: "We are hoping for a humanitarian gesture from the Russians."

sometimes seemed to be "keep 'em guessing," doesn't appear to be changing his ways in the final days of his administration. Johnson watchers, conditioned by some pretty staggering surprises in the past five years, are busy trying to figure out just what—if anything—the chief executive is planning for a White House swan song.

And Johnson aides, showing a little of the same conditioning, have appeared to adopt the policy of not ruling anything out.

That was the position taken Monday by the State Department on the No. 1 item in the guessing game—whether Johnson still hopes to have a summit session with Soviet leaders on curbing the missile race.

"There has never been a time or place or the level agreed upon," said press officer Robert J. McCloskey.

McCloskey had been asked about comments Secretary of State Dean Rusk made Sunday on television that seemed to imply the possibility a summit session was very much alive. Rusk had said there were no plans now for such a meeting, but that phrase again—he didn't want to "rule it out." "The secretary expressed the theoretical possibility such a meeting might take place. But he did not intend to imply any planning was taking place," said McCloskey—in a "clarifying" statement that didn't do much to cool off the guessing.

He also said that Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin had raised the possibility of a summit session on missile curb with several recent U.S. visitors to Moscow.

Johnson reportedly had been

Junior High School Closed By Violence

NEW YORK (AP) — The state has ordered a strife-torn Brooklyn junior high school closed "until further notice" after a day of disorder and student vandalism in the Ocean Hill-Brownsville district and elsewhere in the public school system.

State Education Commissioner James E. Allen's order Monday followed clashes between rock-throwing students and police in the eight-school decentralized district that has been the focus of the city's continuing school crisis.

looking forward eagerly to such a session last summer but called it off after the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

No. 2 item in the capital guessing game is whether Johnson will call a special session of the Senate to vote on ratification of the treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons.

In a familiar variation of the "don't rule it out" line, the Texas White House said last week "no decision has been made."

Then, in a classic understatement,

Sweep-Up Man Wins Injury Suit

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A former sweep-up man, Henry Gilles of Euclid won a $97,500 settlement in U.S. District Court Monday from the Greyhound Bus Co.

Gilles had sued Greyhound as the result of an Ohio Turnpike accident in 1966 in which Gilles said he was injured.

His attorneys claim that Gilles suffered a broken ankle and thigh, making him unemployed.

Gilles, a bachelor, said he had no plans right now on what to do with the money.

ment, the White House spokesman said:

"Until a decision is made, it would be premature to speculate on what might or might not happen."

If Johnson should decide the climate is right for a missile-curb summit, he presumably wouldn't be bound by tradition to give much notice.

When the President decides to make one of his quick jaunts around the country he has been known to give the press corps half an hour to make an airport trip that sometimes takes longer.

And when he made a globe-girdling trip to Australia, Vietnam and Rome last December, he didn't give newsmen an awful lot more notice.

The possibility of a summit and—or—a special Senate session are the chief pieces in the guessing game. But there could be something else not visible on the horizon now.

Johnson watchers, who witnessed the buildup of suspense over selection of Hubert Humphrey as a running mate in 1964 and were stunned by Johnson's decision not to run for re-election are willing to bet on only one thing—the weeks before Jan. 20 won't be entirely placid.

Thinking to yourself that you respect this person and value his friendship is meaningless unless you tell him so.

After a friendly relationship has been established, it requires nurturing in order to survive and prosper. It is easy in the press of modern civilization to neglect our friends. Friendship is like a lovely plant that is watered and given sunlight. It flourishes, producing beautiful blossoms and foliage. But when the plant is not given proper attention it will shrivel and die. Thus it is so with friends, given the proper attention they become dearer and a more important part of one's life. Neglected, the friendship will die and you will find a small part of yourself has wasted away. Maintaining friendships means a constant effort on the part of both persons to preserve the relationship and help it to grow with time into a thing of value and worth. If you do not have the desire or interest to really work at being a friend, forget it, because you can never succeed in this venture without the willingness to invest much time and effort. To some the cost is too great, to others the rewards surpass the cost many times.

But how do you tell if a person is really a friend? Is it a sign of friendship when people come to help in time of trouble? Yes, it is, but many come forward to help at such times who are merely acquaintances. The ones who come to congratulate you and share your joy when you have paid off the mortgage on the house, received an important promotion or when your son has achieved prominence in his field, these are your friends. Yes, those who share the pain of our trouble, the joy of our success and stand with us as we fight the lonely battles that each of us must face, these are our friends.

Friendship is all the more beautiful because it is a relationship of choice. We freely choose to find and keep our friends and this fact tends to strengthen the relationship because we realize how much we are loved and respected by another that they should choose us. Cherish your friends and their friendship and you will find your life is richer by far because it exists.

Cloud Slates Hard Look At Welfare

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Roger Cloud has decided to take a hard look at Ohio's welfare system, one of the state's costliest programs. Cloud announced Monday creation of a Public Welfare and State Institutions' Division to investigate administration of public welfare.

He said the new division, headed by A. J. Walker, senior state examiner, will: —Review administrative compliance with federal and state requirements or welfare eligibility.

—Investigate payments to insure that proper services are being provided welfare recipients.

—Review technical procedures now in operation within welfare systems.

Cloud said the investigation is not aimed at recipients of welfare but at administration of the program to determine if changes in procedures or laws are needed.

If changes in the welfare system are needed, he said, new legislation may be presented to the 108th General Assembly next year.

Cloud said the investigation will begin in selected urban counties and a review of all 88 counties is not contemplated at the present time.

Dad Of Pueblo Crewman Seeks Help In Russia

NEW YORK (AP) — The father of a crewman on the intelligence ship USS Pueblo captured by North Korea is en route to Moscow to seek Soviet aid in gaining his son's release.

Robert Ayling and three fellow Virginians left by plane Monday night for the Russian capital.

Meanwhile, a move to petition congressmen and obtain the freedom of all 82 men aboard the vessel is being sponsored by the National Committee for Responsible Patriotism.

Ayling's son, Charles, 22, was a communications technician on the Pueblo when it was seized last Jan. 23.

Hugh Cline, a law partner of Ayling, told newsmen at Kennedy Airport: "We are hoping for a humanitarian gesture from the Russians."

sometimes seemed to be "keep 'em guessing," doesn't appear to be changing his ways in the final days of his administration. Johnson watchers, conditioned by some pretty staggering surprises in the past five years, are busy trying to figure out just what—if anything—the chief executive is planning for a White House swan song.

And Johnson aides, showing a little of the same conditioning, have appeared to adopt the policy of not ruling anything out.

That was the position taken Monday by the State Department on the No. 1 item in the guessing game—whether Johnson still hopes to have a summit session with Soviet leaders on curbing the missile race.

"There has never been a time or place or the level agreed upon," said press officer Robert J. McCloskey.

McCloskey had been asked about comments Secretary of State Dean Rusk made Sunday on television that seemed to imply the possibility a summit session was very much alive. Rusk had said there were no plans now for such a meeting, but that phrase again—he didn't want to "rule it out." "The secretary expressed the theoretical possibility such a meeting might take place. But he did not intend to imply any planning was taking place," said McCloskey—in a "clarifying" statement that didn't do much to cool off the guessing.

He also said that Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin had raised the possibility of a summit session on missile curb with several recent U.S. visitors to Moscow.

Johnson reportedly had been looking forward eagerly to such a session last summer but called it off after the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

No. 2 item in the capital guessing game is whether Johnson will call a special session of the Senate to vote on ratification of the treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons.

Then, in a classic understatement, the White House spokesman said:

"Until a decision is made, it would be premature to speculate on what might or might not happen."

If Johnson should decide the climate is right for a missile-curb summit, he presumably wouldn't be bound by tradition to give much notice.

When the President decides to make one of his quick jaunts around the country he has been known to give the press corps half an hour to make an airport trip that sometimes takes longer.

And when he made a globe-girdling trip to Australia, Vietnam and Rome last December, he didn't give newsmen an awful lot more notice.

The possibility of a summit and—or—a special Senate session are the chief pieces in the guessing game. But there could be something else not visible on the horizon now.

Johnson watchers, who witnessed the buildup of suspense over selection of Hubert Humphrey as a running mate in 1964 and were stunned by Johnson's decision not to run for re-election are willing to bet on only one thing—the weeks before Jan. 20 won't be entirely placid.

School Van Driver Killed; 5 Injured

NEW LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP) — The driver of a small van-type school bus was killed and all five children passengers were injured Monday when the bus and a truck collided head-on near Crooksville.

Killed was Orville Hoover, 59, of Route 2, New Lexington. The Ohio Highway Patrol said the crash occurred on a curve along Ohio 93 in Perry County when the semi-trailer truck, driven by William McElfresh, 41, of Route 1, Roseville, went left of center.

County Prosecutor George W. Flautt said McElfresh was charged with vehicular homicide in the first degree and reckless operation. A hearing was set for Dec. 13 in Perry County Court.

The injured children are students at the Clayton School for Retarded Children in Perry County.

Listed in satisfactory condition at Good Samaritan Hospital in Zanesville, they are: Joyce Harris, 17, Moxahala; Betty Hazlett, 17, and her brother, Donny, 9, of Route 1 New Lexington; Mary Dyer, 12, Route 2, Crooksville, and Karen Cook, 13, Route 2, New Straitsville.

Kenyon College's Gridders Surprise Ohio Conference

GAMBIER, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's huge football schools produced the headlines and high national ratings but a perennial have-not, Kenyon College, created the biggest surprise of the 1968 Buckeye collegiate campaign.

Little Kenyon, long noted for academics but little noticed in Ohio Conference football, amazed even its most loyal alumni by capturing five of nine games for its first winning season since 1950 and only the 15th winner in 78 years of intercollegiate football.

This year's 5-4 record is even more amazing in light of football events on "The Hill" the previous four campaigns, when Kenyon won only two of 34 starts. The Lords were winless in 1964 and 1967 and won but one game each in 1965 and 1966.

A 31-28 verdict at Hiram snapped a 24-game OC losing streak.

Head football coach and athletic director Phil Morse credits a number of reasons for the successful season, but lists "The excellent cooperation of the administration, our coaching staff and the players" as the No. 1 reason.

However, to outside observers, the winning record mirrored Kenyon's new outlook on football—the "It's fun to win" attitude—plus sound coaching and good physical conditioning. Kenyon people learned that winning isn't a dirty word a few years ago when the basketball team

Kentucky Edges Out Miami In New Redskin Cage Hall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Spunky Miami gave No. 3 ranked Kentucky a few anxious moments in a college basketball clash Monday night.

The Wildcats came out on top 86-77 after Mike Casey sparked an eight-point attack in the final minute of play.

Kentucky took command early, brushing aside the Redskins' stinging attacks, and had a 38-30 halftime lead.

The Wildcats enjoyed a 61-41 lead with 10 minutes left in the game, and it looked like smooth sailing ahead, but Miami battled back to within two points, 78-76, with 1:15 remaining. Then Kentucky poured on the final steam.

Frank Lukacs led the Mid-American Conference team in scoring with 20 points. The game's high scorer was Kentucky's Dan Isel with 22 points. The game inaugurated Miami's new $7.5 million John D. Millett Assembly Hall.

In other action, Cincinnati,

began showing muscles to OC opponents.

The more immediate reason for the victorious season was the presence of a ball-moving passing combination, quarterback Bill Christen and split end Chris Myers, both sophomores.

Myers, a 19-year-old, 6-foot-2 Cincinnati Wyoming high product, set new Ohio Conference pass catching records by grabbing 86 of Christen's passes for a record 1,157 yards and nine touchdowns. The old OC receiving records were 49 catches for 886 yards.

Christen, a graduate of Lima Catholic, completed 112 of 205 passes for 1,376 yards and 10 touchdowns. Although Christen trailed a couple of other OC passers in completions and attempts, his completion average, 54.1 per cent was the highest in the conference. He also threw fewer interceptions than the other top passers.

Old Favorites Among Top College Cage Teams Again

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The college basketball season is only two days old, but already the names have a familiar ring—North Carolina, Kentucky, Houston, Pete Maravich, Charlie Scott, Mike Casey, George Thompson, Ken Spain.

North Carolina, which went to the NCAA finals against UCLA last year, did little to damage its No. 2 ranking with a 89-78 victory over visiting Oregon with Scott playing the leading role.

Close behind at No. 3, Kentucky relied on Casey in the final 75 seconds for a 86-77 triumph over host Miami of Ohio. And Houston, tied for the sixth spot despite the absence of Elvin Hayes, made it two straight with a 80-60 rout over Pepperdine with Spain leading the way.

Maravich, the nation's leading scorer with a 42.8 point a game average last season, gave notice that he is out to defend that title by dropping in 52 points as Louisiana State romped past New Orleans Loyola 109-82.

Thompson, a main reason for Marquette's tie for 20th ranking, notched 18 points in a 68-45 breeze past St. John's of Minnesota.

The other top 20 teams in action also emerged unscathed as Cincinnati, No. 9, beat Kansas State 86-70; Vanderbilt, No. 12, slipped by Southern Methodist 97-94; Duke, No. 16, blasted Alabama 86-48; Western Kentucky, No. 17, crushed Southeast Louisiana 101-62, and California, No. 19, tripped San Francisco 82-71.

Scott, fresh from the Olympics, finished with 34 points, including the important ones that blunted several Oregon rushes at the Tar Heels. His four quick baskets put North Carolina ahead 50-39 at halftime, and when the Ducks pulled within 62-60, he took up the scoring again and also set up baskets with steals.

Oregon had one last shot at 75-72, but the Tar Heels' four corner offense took them out of danger.

Casey, who totaled 20 points, two less than teammate Dan Isel, dropped in two baskets in the last 1:15 after Miami pulled within 78-76. The Wildcats added four free throws to put the game out of reach.

Celtics Buy Barnes

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association Monday purchased outright 6-foot-8 Jim "Bad News" Barnes from the Chicago Bulls. To make room for Barnes, the Celtics put 6-9 Bud Olsen on waivers.

Houston had five players in double figures, led by Spain's 23 as the Cougars built a 41-27 halftime lead at home and coasted. Maravich, the 6-foot-5 son of LSU Coach Press Maravich, clicked on 22 of 31 field goal tries and hit 9 of 10 free throws, along with 11 assists and seven rebounds. By halftime, LSU led 62-34.

Marquette, leading 37-30 at intermission despite hitting only

20 per cent from the field, pulled away in the final half behind Thompson's scoring and rebounding.

Cincinnati won its second in a row on the scoring of Don Ogletree, 28 points and Rick Robertson's 19 points and 14 rebounds.

Vanderbilt, however, had its troubles, trailing through most of the first half in a game that had 14 lead changes. Rudy Thacker jump shot for a 93-92 lead and then his three-point play with nine seconds left finally clinched the victory.

Tom Hagan of Vanderbilt and Bill Voight of SMU each had 24 points.

Duke breezed to its second triumph and Coach Vic Bubas' 200th with sophomore Randy Denton scoring 17 points and hauling in 14 rebounds.

Suns, Oaks Beaten In ABA Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Phoenix Suns, who are used to it, and the Oakland Oaks, who are not, both came out losers Monday night, but in different leagues.

The Dallas Chaparrals nipped Oakland 112-111, handing the Oaks only their third setback in 19 American Basketball Association starts.

Meanwhile, the expansion Suns of the National Basketball Association dropped their 11th in a row, losing to Seattle 118-108, and fell deeper into the NBA's Western Division cellar.

In the night's only other professional basketball action, Miami downed Indiana 109-104 in the ABA.

The Oakland-Dallas game was decided on Cincy Powell's 15-foot jump shot with 15 seconds left. Oakland's Rich Barry led all scorers with 32 and also engaged in a shoving and wrestling match with Spider Bennett of Dallas. Neitha was ejected. Ron Boone paced the Chaps with 29 points.

Lennie Wilkens and Bob Rule combined for 64 points to pace Seattle over Phoenix. The Super Sonics trailed through the final period to win going away. Wilkens had 33 points and Rule 31, 22 in the second half.

Miami forged ahead of Indiana early and stayed there behind Skip Thoren's 27 points and 22 rebounds against his former teammates. Les Hunter added 23 for the Floridians.

SPORTS Highlights

NEW YORK (AP) — The St. Louis Blues are unbeaten in nine straight games, the longest streak ever for an expansion team in the National Hockey League, and the goaltending statistics tell why.

St. Louis goalies Glenn Hall and Jacques Plante have allowed 43 goals in 22 games for a league-leading average of 1.95, according to NHL statistics released today.

NEW YORK (AP) — Elvin Hayes, San Diego's rookie flash who took over the National Basketball Association scoring lead last week, has no thoughts about giving it up.

The former Houston All-American, with 36 and 34 points games against Detroit, increased his margin over Bob Rule of Seattle to 83 points with a total of 718 for a 31.2 point a game average in 23 games. Rule, in 27 games, has 635 points and a 23.5 average, in statistics released today.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Rick Barry of Oakland continues to lead the American Basketball Association's individual scoring race with 646 points and a 35.9 average in 18 games. Minnesota's Connie Hawkins is second with 535 points and a 33.4 average in 16 games, league statistics revealed today.

Barry and Hawkins each set league records last week. Barry made 36 straight free throws, breaking by one the mark set the week before by James Jones of New Orleans.

Little All-American Squad Named

NEW YORK (AP) — North Dakota State and San Diego State, the top-rated small college teams in the country, have placed two players apiece on The Associated Press' 1968 Little All-American football squad.

Both schools had one man in the offensive backfield and another on the defensive line.

They were halfback Paul Hatchett and defensive tackle Jim Ferge from top-ranked North Dakota State and fullback Lloyd Edwards and defensive end Fred Dryer from No. 2 San Diego State. The Aztecs had been No. 1 most of the season.

Named to the select small college eleven for the third straight time were Carl Garrett, New Mexico Highlands halfback, and Dwayne Nix, a split end from Texas A&I.

Rounding out the offensive unit were end Bruce Cerone of Emporia, Kan., State, tackles Denny Nelson of Illinois State and Jim Urczyk of Central Missouri State, guards Dan Klepper of Omaha and Larry Small of Northern Arizona, center Dick Dobbett of Springfield and quarterback Sonny Wade of Emory & Henry.

The other members of the defensive platoon included end Tally Windham of McMurry, tackle Bill Bailey of Lewis & Clark, middle guard Ron Brown of Tampa, linebackers Bill Berg of Arkansas State, Tim Buchanan of Hawaii and Tom McCall of Fresno State and backs Dan Eckstein of Presbyterian, Jim Marsalis of Tennessee A&I State and Jack O'Brien of Colorado State College.

Quarterback Wade, a 6-foot-3 senior, led Emory & Henry to a 9-1 record by completing 175 of 350 passes for 2,695 yards and 28

touchdowns. He also ran for 259 yards and nine TDs and did the placement kicking.

Halfbacks Hatchett and Garrett rambled for 1,213 and 1,373 yards, respectively, as their teams went through 9-0 regular seasons. The tremendously strong, 245-pound Edwards, also a fine blocker, was San Diego State's top ground-gainer.

Cerone, a junior split end who is eligible for the pro draft this year, shattered three NAIA receiving marks — 91 catches for 1,479 yards and a per game average of 164.3 yards—and equaled the standard of 15 touchdown catches.

Nix, the other end, was the object of multiple coverage, leaving other receivers open, but still grabbed 33 tosses for 498 yards and helped Texas A&I into the NAIA national championship game Dec. 14.

Illinois State's Nelson, a proven defensive star, switched to fulltime offense and helped his team set a school rushing record. He also played defense when needed. Urczyk, the other tackle, received the highest rating in the Missouri-Kansas area.

Kenyon College's Gridders Surprise Ohio Conference

GAMBIER, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's huge football schools produced the headlines and high national ratings but a perennial have-not, Kenyon College, created the biggest surprise of the 1968 Buckeye collegiate campaign.

Little Kenyon, long noted for academics but little noticed in Ohio Conference football, amazed even its most loyal alumni by capturing five of nine games for its first winning season since 1950 and only the 15th winner in 78 years of intercollegiate football.

This year's 5-4 record is even more amazing in light of football events on "The Hill" the previous four campaigns, when Kenyon won only two of 34 starts. The Lords were winless in 1964 and 1967 and won but one game each in 1965 and 1966.

A 31 - 28 verdict at Hiram snapped a 24-game OC losing streak.

Head football coach and athletic director Phil Morse credits a number of reasons for the successful season, but lists "The excellent cooperation of the administration, our coaching staff and the players" as the No. 1 reason.

However, to outside observers, the winning record mirrored Kenyon's new outlook on football—the "It's fun to win" attitude—plus sound coaching and good physical conditioning. Kenyon people learned that winning isn't a dirty word a few years ago woen the basketball team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Spunky Miami gave No. 3 ranked Kentucky a few anxious moments in a college basketball clash Monday night.

The Wildcats came out on top 86-77 after Mike Casey sparked an eight-point attack in the final minute of play.

Kentucky took command early, brushing aside the Redskins' stinging attacks, and had a 38-30 halftime lead.

The Wildcats enjoyed a 61-41 lead with 10 minutes left in the game, and it looked like smooth sailing ahead, but Miami battled back to within two points, 78-76, with 1:15 remaining. Then Kentucky poured on the final steam.

Frank Lukaes led the Mid-American Conference team in scoring with 20 points. The game's high scorer was Kentucky's Dan Issel with 22 points.

The game inaugurated Miami's new $7.5 million John D. Millett Assembly Hall.

In other action, Cincinnati,

began showing muscles to OC opponents.

The more immediate reason for the victorious season was the presence of a ball-moving passing combination, quarterback Bill Christen and split end Chris Myers, both sophomores.

Myers, a 19-year-old, 6-foot-2 Cincinnati Wyoming high product, set new Ohio Conference pass catching records by grabbing 86 of Christen's passes for a record 1,157 yards and nine touchdowns. The old OC receiving records were 49 catches for 886 yards.

Christen, a graduate of Lima Catholic, completed 112 of 205 passes for 1,376 yards and 10 touchdowns. Although Christen trailed a couple of other OC passers in completions and attempts, his completion average, 54.1 per cent was the highest in the conference. He also threw fewer interceptions than the other top passers.

Old Favorites Among Top College Cage Teams Again

By MIKE RECHT Associated Press Sports Writer The college basketball season is only two days old, but already the names have a familiar ring—North Carolina, Kentucky, Houston, Pete Maravich, Charlie Scott, Mike Casey, George Thompson, Ken Spain.

North Carolina, which went to the NCAA finals against UCLA last year, did little to damage its No. 2 ranking with a 89-78 victory over visiting Oregon with Scott playing the leading role.

Close behind at No. 3, Kentucky relied on Casey in the final 75 seconds for a 86-77 triumph over host Miami of Ohio. And Houston, tied for the sixth spot despite the absence of Elvin Hayes, made it two straight with a 80-60 rout over Pepperdine with Spain leading the way.

Maravich, the nation's leading scorer with a 42.8 point a game average last season, gave notice that he is out to defend that title by dropping in 52 points as Louisiana State romped past New Orleans Loyola 109-82.

Thompson, a main reason for Marquette's tie for 20th ranking, notched 18 points in a 68-45 breeze past St. John's of Minnesota.

The other top 20 teams in action also emerged unscathed as Cincinnati, No. 9, beat Kansas State 86-70; Vanderbilt, No. 12, slipped by Southern Methodist 97-94; Duke, No. 15, blasted Alabama 86-48; Western Kentucky, No. 17, crushed Southeast Louisiana 101-62, and California, No. 19, tripped San Francisco 82-71.

Scott, fresh from the Olympics, finished with 34 points, including the important ones that blunted several Oregon rushes at the Tar Heels. His four quick baskets put North Carolina ahead 50-39 at halftime, and when the Ducks pulled within 62-60, he took up the scoring again and also set up baskets with steals.

Oregon had one last shot at 75-72, but the Tar Heels' four corner offense took them out of danger.

Casey, who totaled 20 points, two less than teammate Dan Issel, dropped in two baskets in the last 1:15 after Miami pulled within 78-76. The Wildcats added four free throws to put the game out of reach.

Celtics Buy Barnes

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association Monday purchased outright 6-foot-8 Jim "Bad News" Barnes from the Chicago Bulls. To make room for Barnes, the Celtics put 6-9 Bud Olsen on waivers.

Houston had five players in double figures, led by Spain's 23 as the Cougars built a 41-27 halftime lead at home and coasted. Maravich, the 6-foot-5 son of LSU Coach Press Maravich, clicked on 22 of 31 field goal tries and hit 9 of 10 free throws, along with 11 assists and seven rebounds. By halftime, LSU led 62-34.

Marquette, leading 37-30 at intermission despite hitting only

20 per cent from the field, pulled away in the final half behind Thompson's scoring and rebounding.

Cincinnati won its second in a row on the scoring of Don Ogletree, 28 points and Rick Robertson's 19 points and 14 rebounds.

Vanderbilt, however, had its troubles, trailing through most of the first half in a game that had 14 lead changes. Rudy Thacker jump shot for a 93-92 lead and then his three-point play with nine seconds left finally clinched the victory.

Tom Hagan of Vanderbilt and Bill Voight of SMU each had 24 points.

Duke breezed to its second triumph and Coach Vic Bubas' 200th with sophomore Randy Denton scoring 17 points and hauling in 14 rebounds.

Suns, Oaks Beaten In ABA Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Phoenix Suns, who are used to it, and the Oakland Oaks, who are not, both came out losers Monday night, but in different leagues.

The Dallas Chaparrals nipped Oakland 112-111, handing the Oaks only their third setback in 19 American Basketball Association starts.

Meanwhile, the expansion Suns of the National Basketball Association dropped their 11th in a row, losing to Seattle 118-108, and fell deeper into the NBA's Western Division cellar.

In the night's only other pro basketball action, Miami downed Indiana 109-104 in the ABA.

The Oakland-Dallas game was decided on Cincy Powell's 15-foot jump shot with 15 seconds left. Oakland's Rich Barry led all scorers with 32 and also engaged in a shoving and wrestling match with Spider Bennett of Dallas. Neitha was ejected. Ron Boone paced the Chaps with 29 points.

Lennie Wilkens and Bob Rule combined for 64 points to pace Seattle over Phoenix. The Super Sonics trailed through the final period to win going away. Wilkens had 33 points and Rule 31, 22 in the second half.

Miami forged ahead of Indiana early and stayed there behind Skip Thoren's 27 points and 22 rebounds against his former teammates. Les Hunter added 25 for the Floridians.

SPORTS Highlights

NEW YORK (AP) — The St. Louis Blues are unbeaten in nine straight games, the longest streak ever for an expansion team in the National Hockey League, and the goaltending statistics tell why.

St. Louis goalie Glenn Hall and Jacques Plante have allowed 43 goals in 22 games for a league-leading average of 1.95, according to NHL statistics released today.

NEW YORK (AP) — Elvin Hayes, San Diego's rookie flash who took over the National Basketball Association scoring lead last week, has no thoughts about giving it up.

The former Houston All-American, with 36 and 34 points games against Detroit, increased his margin over Bob Rule of Seattle to 83 points with a total of 718 for a 31.2 point a game average in 23 games. Rule, in 27 games, has 635 points and a 23.5 average, in statistics released today.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Rick Barry of Oakland continues to lead the American Basketball Association's individual scoring race with 646 points and a 35.9 average in 18 games. Minnesota's Connie Hawkins is second with 535 points and a 33.4 average in 16 games, league statistics revealed today.

Barry and Hawkins each set league records last week. Barry made 36 straight free throws, breaking by one the mark set the week before by James Jones of New Orleans.

In other games, Ohio Northern edged Urbana 83-80 in a game that saw the lead change hands until the final seconds; John Carroll slipped by Wheeling 83-82 on John Mullally's free throw with 21 seconds left; and West Virginia State, led by Alan Hamilton's 32 points, downed defending NAIA champion Central State 95-91 in overtime.

In action tonight, Ohio University clashes with Indiana to headline an otherwise meager fare of Ohio college games.

The Bobcats open their home basketball season in the school's new $8.5 million, 13,080 - seat Convocation Center. Dedication ceremonies precede the game, highlighted by a special "jump ball" by Ohio U. President Vernon Alden and Athletic Director Bill Rohr.

It took four shots for the seventh grade student to kill the animal. His father returned to Zaleski today to try to match his son's hunting feat.

Little All-American Squad Named

NEW YORK (AP) — North Dakota State and San Diego State, the top-rated small college teams in the country, have placed two players apiece on The Associated Press' 1968 Little All-American football squad.

Both schools had one man in the offensive backfield and another on the defensive line.

They were halfback Paul Hatchett and defensive tackle Jim Ferge from top-ranked North Dakota State and fullback Lloyd Edwards and defensive end Fred Dryer from No. 2 San Diego State. The Aztecs had been No. 1 most of the season.

Named to the select small college eleven for the third straight

time were Carl Garrett, New Mexico Highlands halfback, and Dwayne Nix, a split end from Texas A&I.

Rounding out the offensive unit were end Bruce Cerone of Emporia, Kan., State, tackles Denny Nelson of Illinois State and Jim Urczyk of Central Missouri State, guards Dan Klepper of Omaha and Larry Small of Northern Arizona, center Dick Dobbert of Springfield and quarterback Sonny Wade of Emory & Henry.

The other members of the defensive platoon included end Tally Windham of McMurtry, tackle Bill Bailey of Lewis & Clark, middle guard Ron Brown of Tampa, linebackers Bill Bergery of Arkansas State, Tim Buchanan of Hawaii and Tom McCall of Fresno State and backs Dan Eckstein of Presbyterian, Jim Marsalis of Tennessee A&I State and Jack O'Brien of Colorado State College.

Quarterback Wade, a 6-foot-3 senior, led Emory & Henry to a 9-1 record by completing 175 of 350 passes for 2,695 yards and 28

touchdowns. He also ran for 259 yards and nine TDs and did the placement kicking.

Halfbacks Hatchett and Garrett rambled for 1,213 and 1,373 yards, respectively, as their teams went through 9-0 regular seasons. The tremendously strong, 245-pound Edwards, also a fine blocker, was San Diego State's top ground-gainer.

Cerone, a junior split end who is eligible for the pro draft this year, shattered three NAIA receiving marks — 91 catches for 1,479 yards and a per game average of 164.3 yards—and equaled the standard of 15 touchdown catches.

Nix, the other end, was the object of multiple coverage, leaving other receivers open, but still grabbed 33 tosses for 498 yards and helped Texas A&I into the NAIA national championship game Dec. 14.

Illinois State's Nelson, a proven defensive star, switched to fulltime offense and helped his team set a school rushing record. He also played defense when needed. Urczyk, the other tackle, received the highest rating in the Missouri-Kansas area.

FERRED TO AS THE "CIRCLE-
VILLE NORTH STORM SEWER

ERGENCY WHEREAS, pursuant to Ordinance No. 70-67, passed on November 21, 1967, notes in the aggregate amount of $200,000 dated December 12, 1967, were issued for the purpose hereinafter stated, to mature on or before one year from date; and

WHEREAS, the Auditor of this City, as fiscal officer, has certified as to the maximum maturity of the bonds proposed to be issued and of the notes herein authorized, which note maturity may not exceed five
(5) years from December 12, 1967; and

WHEREAS, by reason of delay in completion of construction, it has proved impossible to levy the assessments and issue the bonds anticipated by said notes in order to retire the same.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT
ORDAINED BY THE Council of the City of Circleville, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. That is is hereby declared necessary to issue bonds of the City of Circleville in the principal sum of $200,000 for the purpose of paying the property owners' portion of the levy and collection of special assessments, and the City's portion of the cost of constructing the interconnected storm sewers generally referred to as the "Circleville North Storm Sewer System" to serve territory known as Circleville North Area in the manner provided in Resolution No. 37-63, adopted April 16, 1963; of said amount the City's portion is $25,000 and the property owners' portion is $175,000.

Section 2. That said bonds shall be dated approximately November 1, 1969, shall bear interest at the estimated rate of four and one-half per centum (4½ per cent) per annum, payable semi-annually, until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in ten substantially equal annual installments after their issuance.

Section 3. That it is necessary and this Council hereby determines that notes in the aggregate principal amount of $200,000 shall be issued in anticipation of the issuance of said bonds for the above-described improvement and to pay and retire the outstanding notes dated December 12, 1967.

Section 4. That such anticipatory notes in the amount aforesaid shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four and one-half per centum (4½ per cent) per annum, payable at maturity, as may be fixed by the Auditor in her certificate awarded such notes at private sale. Such notes shall be dated December 12, 1968 and shall mature on or before one year from said date.

Section 5. Such notes shall be executed by the Mayor and the Auditor, and bear the seal of the corporation. They shall be payable at the office of the legal department of the City, presently, The Third National Bank of Circleville, Circleville, Ohio, and shall express upon their faces the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued pursuant to this ordinance.

Section 6. All assessments collected for the improvement aforesaid, and any unexpended balance remaining in the improvement fund after the costs and expenses of said improvement have been paid shall be applied to the payment of said notes and the interest thereon until both are fully provided for.

Section 7. That said notes shall first be offered to the Treasurer of the City as officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund and, if not taken by said officer, shall be sold by the Auditor at private sale for not less than the par value thereof in accordance with the provisions of Section 4 of this ordinance; and the Auditor is hereby authorized and directed to deliver said notes, when executed, to the purchaser upon payment of such purchase price. The proceeds of such sale shall be paid into the proper fund and use for the purpose for which said notes are being issued under the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 8. Said notes shall be the full general obligations of the City and the full faith, credit and revenue of said City are hereby pledged for the prompt payment of the same. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by said notes and any excess funds resulting from the issuance of said notes shall to the extent necessary be used only for the retirement of said notes at maturity, together with interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purpose.

Section 9. In the event that such assessments are not levied or bonds are not issued to provide a fund for the payment of said notes at maturity, a general tax shall be levied against all of the property in said City for the payment of such notes and the interest thereon; provided, however, that during the year or years while such notes run taxable property in said City, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually not less than that which would have been levied for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which, together with the interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of said notes or the bonds in anticipation of which they are issued when and as the same falls due.

Section 10. The Clerk of Council is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

Section 11. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of said City and for the further reason that the immediate issuance and sale of the notes herein authorized is necessary to provide funds to enable the City to retire its existing indebtedness and thereby preserve its credit; wherefore, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and immediately after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

A federal court jury of 10 women and 2 men deliberated 24 hours before finding the defendants guilty on all of 49 counts returned by a grand jury a year ago.

Sentencing was set for Jan. 20.

Government witnesses testified that ceiling peepholes were secretly installed at the club in Beverly Hills, along with signal devices at the playing tables. The scheme netted as much as $53,000 a game over four years, they testified.

The defendants were Maurice H. Friedman, 52, a Las Vegas investor; Benjamin Teitelbaum, 53, Hollywood businessman; T. Warner Richardson, 62, a former Las Vegas casino operator; Manuel Jacobs, 48, former owner of a Los Angeles Panguingue Parlor, and Johnny Roselli, 62, who awaits sentence on immigration law violations.

Grant Cooper, Friedman's attorney, said he and the other defense lawyers would seek acquittal, new trials and arrest of judgment on the day of sentencing.

Among Friars Club members who claimed heavy losses were singer Tony Martin, shoe magnate Harry Karl and comedians Phil Silvers and Zeppo Marx.

Maximum prison sentences could run from five years for Richardson to 130 years for Friedman. Teitelbaum could receive up to 83 years, Roselli 43 years and Jacobs 38 years.

Hunter, Group Of Marines Seek Tiger In Viet Valley

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
Associated Press Writer

UANG TRI, Vietnam (AP) — A safari of U.S. Marines and a Vietnamese hunter left today for a jungled mountain valley to kill a tiger that killed a young Marine three weeks ago.

"When a Marine is killed, we'll get to the source, even if the source is a tiger," said Brig. Gen. Robert B. Carney Jr., assistant commander of the 3rd Marine Division and the director of the hunt.

Pfc. Francis Baldino of Ashland, Pa., was the tiger's victim while on an ambush patrol Nov. 14 in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

The patrol leader told investigators he was only three paces in front of Baldino, a radio operator, when he heard a low growl and a scream. When he turned, Baldino had disappeared, he said.

Baldino's body was found the next morning under some bushes. Other patrols were sent in and saw two tigers but were unable to get a shot at them.

McDonald, Russo Named By Demos

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio House Democrats, asserting "complete unity" Monday re-elected Rep. John C. McDonald D-19 Licking to a second term as minority leader.

The Democrats, holding their initial caucus, also named Rep. Anthony J. Russo D-43 Cleveland to the new position of assistant minority leader.

Both ran unopposed and were elected unanimously.

After the caucus, Rep. A. G. Lancione D - 30 Belmont, who earlier had indicated an interest in the minority leader post, said "for the first time in 12 years since I've been here we have complete unity—I trust."

"But unfortunately there are just a few of us," he quipped. Democrats hold only 35 of the 99 House seats. All but two attended Monday's caucus.

Following his selection, McDonald, 31, announced that a permanent policy committee would be set up to form Democratic positions in the legislature.

Astronauts Given Shots To Block Flu

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 8 astronauts are receiving inoculations in an effort to keep Hong Kong Flu from becoming a stow-away on the Christmas flight to the moon.

Officials at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the prime, back-up and support crews for both Apollo 8 and 9 received inoculations against the Asian 2, or Hong Kong virus.

A NASA doctor said the Apollo 8 astronauts have also been placed in a program of "limited exposure," but that it's impossible to place them in total isolation before the flight.

Essential ground personnel, such as flight controllers, are also being inoculated against the virus.

The doctor said the supply of flu vaccine available to NASA was "extremely limited." Another NASA official said selection of those to receive the flu shots is based on the effect their absence would have on the mission.

Apollo 8, with Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders aboard, is due to be launched Dec. 21 for a flight around the moon. The crew is scheduled to circle the moon for 20 hours on Christmas Eve and start for home early Christmas Day.

Apollo 9, planned as an earth orbit mission, is scheduled for the first quarter of 1969, possibly in February.

Classes Remain Open At College Despite Turmoil

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Classrooms at San Francisco State College will remain open no matter how many policemen it takes, says Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, the newly named acting president.

As promised, the peppery, 62-year-old language expert reopened the school Monday. Most of the 18,000 students had regular classes for the first time in three weeks. Periodically police—as many as 150 at one period—were on the campus for seven hours.

Six persons were arrested and five students suspended.

Hayakawa, a 5-foot-6, 153-pounder, even made a raid of his own, disabling a sound truck used to promote a strike called by the Black Students Union. An estimated 150 students pulled and shoved at him and snatched his jaunty green and white cap. Police arrested two and drove the truck away.

UANG TRI, Vietnam (AP) — A safari of U.S. Marines and a Vietnamese hunter left today for a jungled mountain valley to kill a tiger that killed a young Marine three weeks ago.

"When a Marine is killed, we'll get to the source, even if the source is a tiger," said Brig. Gen. Robert B. Carney Jr., assistant commander of the 3rd Marine Division and the director of the hunt.

Pfc. Francis Baldino of Ashland, Pa., was the tiger's victim while on an ambush patrol Nov. 14 in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

The patrol leader told investigators he was only three paces in front of Baldino, a radio operator, when he heard a low growl and a scream. When he turned, Baldino had disappeared, he said.

Baldino's body was found the next morning under some bushes. Other patrols were sent in and saw two tigers but were unable to get a shot at them.

Astronauts Given Shots To Block Flu

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 8 astronauts are receiving inoculations in an effort to keep Hong Kong Flu from becoming a stow-away on the Christmas flight to the moon.

Officials at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the prime, back-up and support crews for both Apollo 8 and 9 received inoculations against the Asian 2, or Hong Kong virus.

A NASA doctor said the Apollo 8 astronauts have also been placed in a program of "limited exposure," but that it's impossible to place them in total isolation before the flight.

Essential ground personnel, such as flight controllers, are also being inoculated against the virus.

The doctor said the supply of flu vaccine available to NASA was "extremely limited." Another NASA official said selection of those to receive the flu shots is based on the effect their absence would have on the mission.

Apollo 8, with Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders aboard, is due to be launched Dec. 21 for a flight around the moon. The crew is scheduled to circle the moon for 20 hours on Christmas Eve and start for home early Christmas Day.

Apollo 9, planned as an earth orbit mission, is scheduled for the first quarter of 1969, possibly in February.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Classrooms at San Francisco State College will remain open no matter how many policemen it takes, says Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, the newly named acting president.

As promised, the peppery, 62-year-old language expert reopened the school Monday. Most of the 18,000 students had regular classes for the first time in three weeks. Periodically police—as many as 150 at one period—were on the campus for seven hours.

Six persons were arrested and five students suspended.

Hayakawa, a 5-foot-6, 153-pounder, even made a raid of his own, disabling a sound truck used to promote a strike called by the Black Students Union. An estimated 150 students pulled and shoved at him and snatched his jaunty green and white cap. Police arrested two and drove the truck away.
